Guests share talents at assemblies

1. Reeko Brothers fascinate students with their juggling act. 2. Carrying on the practice of competition during pep assemblies, Eric Van Wechel, Doug Kimberly and Tom Reinsvold put on panty hose before racing down court to make a basket. 3. Rams football star Pat Thomas speaks to students about the importance of team and school spirit.

Council revises ASB constitution

¹ With the goal of improving existing situations and making a difference in the school, the 1978-79 student council took on many ambitious programs.

These included a revised ASB constitution, better assemblies, campus beautification, an improved budget, a more serviceable career center and a regulated parking lot.

One of the major reforms of the 78-79 student leaders was the ASB constitution. Junior council person Joe Tate felt it had been illegally altered in the past and was inadequate to fill the needs of students. Council set about writing a new document which was approved by the student body in May. The new constitution reduced the council membership from 27 to 18.

ICC president Tom McMahon also felt his clubs improved greatly in their ability to work together and promote campus involvement.

Despite cuts, aztlan continues quality

Struggling to get by after district funds were cut off as a result of Proposition 13, Aztlan staff members managed to successfully maintain the superior quality of the award-winning newspaper. Extra time and effort invested by staff members secured over $2000 in advertising, in addition to generous contributions by the English department and student council.

The staff members aimed to present students with a clear view of campus life, plus reporting on state, national and community affairs which directly affected EHS students.

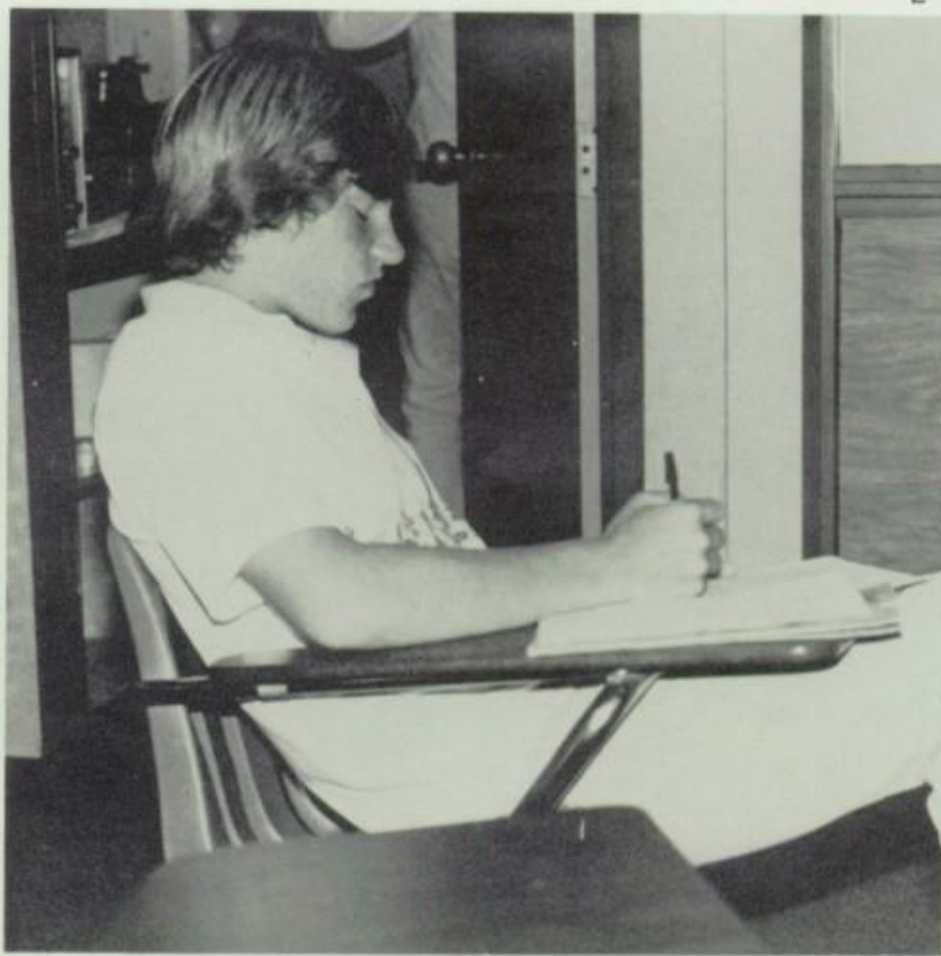

Ranking in the top 3 percent of the nation, aztlan was awarded an All-American rating for the eighth and ninth semesters in a row by the National Scholastic Press Association. The staff also added a sweepstakes award from the OCJEA Write Offs competition to their collection.

Staff Members traveled to San Jose to participate in the annual Journalism Education Association convention in April.

Quetzal changes to fall delivery

With the hope of having a more complete yearbook,² the Quetzal staff designed a year-round annual which was distributed Sept. 1.

For the first time the book included many spring activities usually neglected in the traditional delivery such as spring sports, prom, graduation and grad night. As a bonus, the yearbook staff presented a 16 page "preview" of the annual. The "preview" was delivered in June allowing students to gather signatures of their friends. This was later inserted into the actual yearbook.

Quetzal featured 280 pages, 82 of which were color, including a color senior section. Once again Herff Jones of Pasco, Washington, printed the yearbook.

MEChA increases funds

Raising more money than ever before in the club's history, MEChA held numerous fund raisers ranging from a balloon sale to a car wash. The first school dance of the year net them over an amazing $800 in profits.

Activities during the course of the year included a fall picnic with student council, an Easter egg hunt for the children of Atwood, a trip to Cal State Fullerton in celebration of Cinco de Mayo, visiting a local amusement park and assisting with graduation.

The club hosted several guest speakers from nearby Fullerton College.

Advisor Mike Smith directed the club of about 40 members. MEChA (Movimiento Estudiantil Chicano de Aztlan) officers were president Yvonne de la Rosa, vice president Julie Sepulveda, secretary Shelly Garcia, treasurer Donna Castillo, sergeant at arms Jojo Ramirez, and minority representative Paul Infante.

'Look Homeward Angel' presented ¹

Ketti Fring's adaption of Thomas Wolfe's autobiographical novel "Look Homeward Angel" was presented in the little theater Nov. 2, 4, 7 and 10.

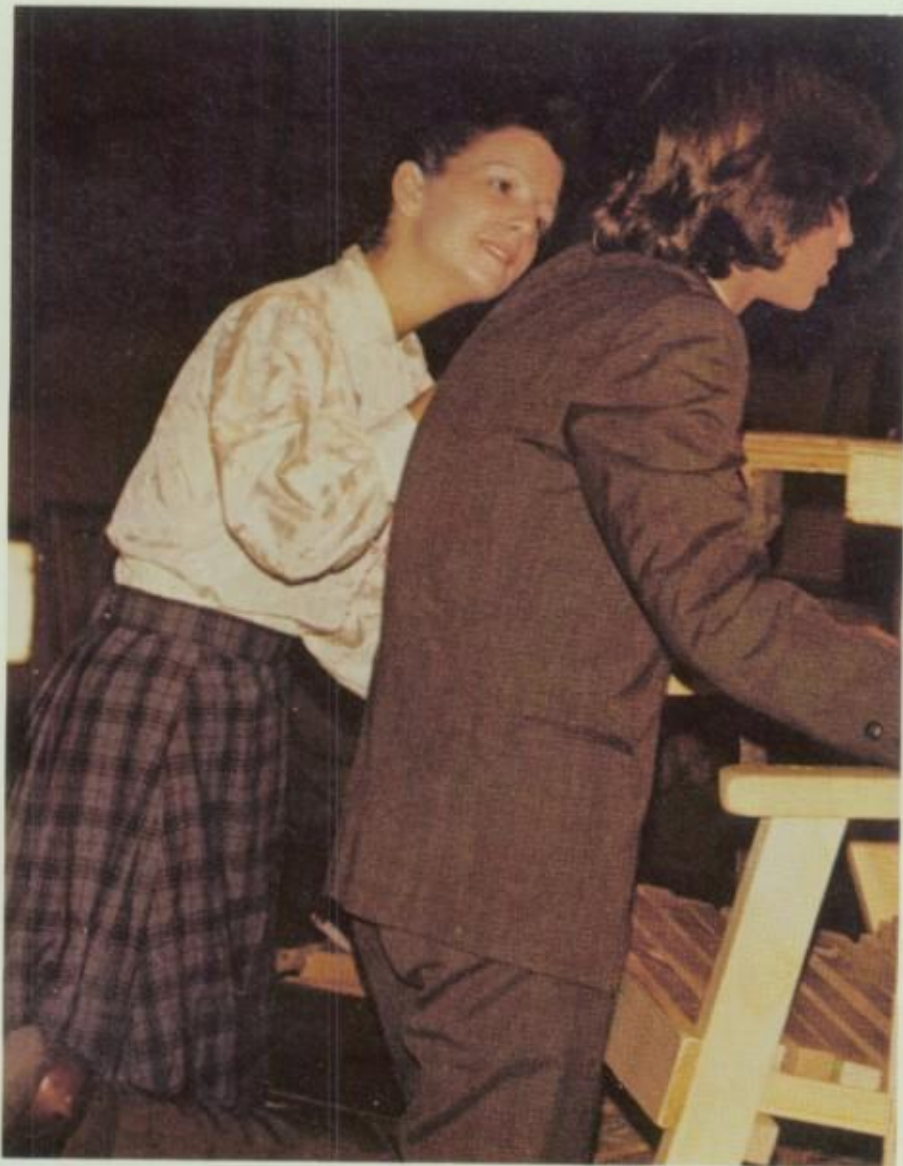

The story of an intelligent boy's struggle to free himself from his overbearing mother, "Angel" was guest directed by Paul Barnes of Lincoln High School in Stockton, Calif.

A masterpiece set was designed by Barnes and junior Joe Fusaro and built by Fusaro and the stagecraft classes. The lighting was designed by Mark Stevenson.

The cast included Stacy Harker, Cindy Wilson, Melanie Orellana, Laura Rice, Julie Sepulveda, Ron McLaughlin, Brian Barbre, Terry Hofferth, Carey Thomas, Russ Stephany, Fred Davis, Tim Leach, Alyse Rome, Rhonda Gilbert, Jamie Baker, Larry Kizziar, John McCall, Eddy Singletary, Brian Kohut, Soni Gibson and Sharon Dyke.

1. Set designer Joe Fusaro constructs another masterpiece. 2. Eugene (Carey Thomas), having just witnessed his brother's death, looks toward heaven with hope.

1. Eliza Gant (Alyse Rome) assures her son Gene (Carey Thomas) that there are "other fish in the sea." 2. Laura James (Sharon Dyke) thanks Gene for a wonderful evening. 3. Eliza and Gene grieve over the death of Ben Gant (Terry Hofferth).

King coronation new tradition

Signaling a new fall tradition, senior Bob Wood was crowned as the first Homecoming king. His royal partner was queen Sue Kychenthal.

Leading to the halftime coronation ceremony was a week of spirit activities including pies in the candidates' faces.

Capping the week's events was a Saturday night dance in the gym. Shimmering lights encircled the dance floor as students swayed to the beat of "Life." "Portraits and Memories" was the theme of the dance as Albert and James Studios captured the moment for the couples.

The Aztec football team made the weekend complete with a victory over Valencia on Friday night.

Vocal ensemble 'top performers'

Billed as the "top performers" in the vocal department, the vocal ensemble members were all made to give a compulsory audition for and then be approved by the new director Kathy Lopez.

The vocal ensemble participated in the Canyon Vocal Ensemble Festival, the Southern California Vocal Assembly and the Esperanza area district festival as well as performing at the PTA chili dinner, the jazz concert, the spring concert, the Christmas concert and at several places in the community including Christmas caroling at a local hospital.

'White Satin' Christmas Formal theme

Sponsored again by the girls athletic club, "Night's in White Satin" was the theme of the Christmas Formal held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grand Hotel in Anaheim Dec. 18.

Escaping cool winds and rain outside, couples danced until midnight to the sounds of the popular band Free Flight.

Senior couple Chris Monson and Michelle Walker were voted king and queen of the event by students as they entered the dance.

Executive Portraits was on hand to capture the festive mood of the evening.

Marchers sweep Covina parade

Winning the sweepstakes prize in the Covina Christmas parade was the highlight of the marching band season under the supervision of the new director Gary Nouskajian.

The band also participated in the California Band Review in which they placed first and All-Western Band Review. Both of these are among the biggest parades in California. In addition, the band took first in the Placentia Heritage Days parade.

Adding to the individual awards, the drum line placed first in the Covina parade and second in the Heritage Days parade. The drill team also took first in the Covina parade and tall flags were "superior" in their class.

Pepsters incorporate summer camp ideas

Utilizing what they learned over the summer at NCA/CADA cheerleading camp, the girls main objectives were to get the crowd involved and give more attention to the less publicized sports like wrestling, girls basketball and volleyball.

The pepster unit was comprised of six squads including flag, song, freshman, sophomore, JV and varsity cheer.

The girls were required to maintain their weight with that of the national average for their height or face being benched. Weekly weigh-ins often times hindered the individual squads.

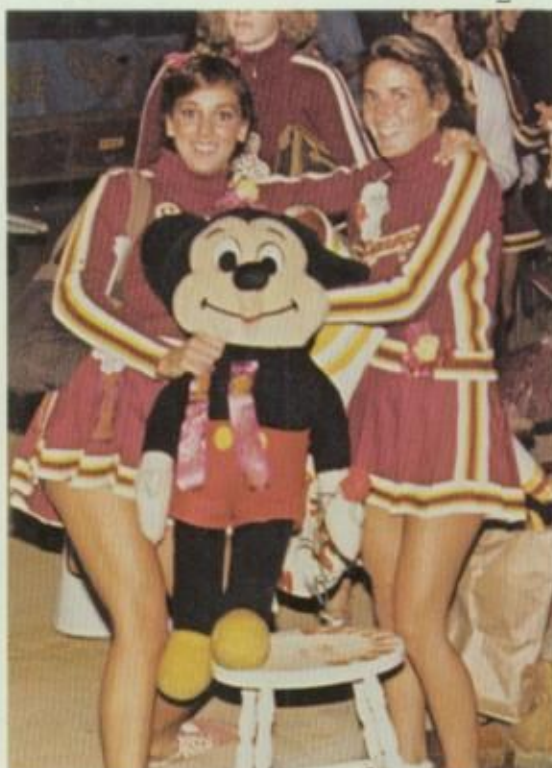

Song squad received a first place at the Disneyland Festival competition. At Arroyo competition, flag squad won third place while sophomore cheer placed third in the cheer competition. Song and flag combined their efforts at camp and were awarded two spirit sticks.

Girls present 'Winter Wrappings'

Hosting a fashion show in December was just one of the fund raisers sponsored by girls league.

The fashion show, entitled "Winter Wrappings - An evening of total fashion" was highlighted with dresses and pantsuits provided by Dante of Orange and Tuxedos worn by male models provided by Robert's Tux Shop also in Orange. Girls league members modeled all the fashions including some hairstyles cut by The Haircut Store in Fullerton and All About Hair in Brea. Door prizes were awarded to the audience and a dance routine was performed for their enjoyment.

Club members also sponsored the selling of Halloween grams and their yearly Sadie Hawkins dance that was held in March. Profits from the fund raisers went towards a $50 scholarship for a senior member and lights for the little theater.

An annual dinner held as a farewell to the seniors and as an installation for the new officers took place in May. Junior members served as cord bearers at graduation to carry out girls league tradition.

Sadie Hawkins theme changed

Changing the traditional western theme to "Sadie Goes Around the World," girls' league sponsored their sixth annual Sadie Hawkins dance.

Couples were encouraged to dress in international costumes, however, many couples dressed in traditional outfits. A contest was held for the most original outfit and couples were united in "wedlock" by Marryin' Sam. Door prizes were also given throughout the night.

Girls' league held various international days during spirit week prior to the dance. Couples attending the dance were asked to "eat rice" on Japan Day, "sketch their date" while blindfolded on Paris Day, and dress-up in western clothes on Friday before the dance.

Nominations were taken at the dance for the Vagabond Couple to reign over the event. Pat Rogers and Melody Bink were crowned the honor and were presented horseshoes and complimentary gifts from Dante in Orange.

Albert and James took pictures with a background made by girls' league members.

Concert choir presents pops concert

Highlighted by a Christmas concert and a spring pops recital, concert choir, along with vocal ensemble, expanded on the number of public performances under the direction of new director Kathy Lopez.

Dressed in new long peach dresses and black tuxes, the 65 concert choir members presented their Christmas songs in candelight during their little theater performance.

In order to raise money for sound equipment and some new tuxes, the singers sold candles during holidays and hosted an all-school talent show. The candle sales netted the choir approximately $2,000.

Skiers hit slopes in Utah, Colorado

With a membership almost twice the size of last year's, the Explorers' Club (otherwise known as the ski club) had an active year overall.

The 70-member club not only ventured to Utah over Christmas vacation and to Colorado over Easter vacation, but also took trips to Mammoth throughout the year, in addition to joining a racing program on Friday and Saturday nights at Mountain High.

For their annual fund raiser, the skiers co-sponsored a dance in February with the creative writing classes. Ski club officers included president Jeff Peddie, vice president Jill Jordan, treasurer and secretary Mark Smith.

C.A.T. team goal: better school climate

With the goal of formulating a more desirable school climate, the Communications Action Team (C.A.T.) approached the problem with techniques learned at a camp in October.

One project was to attempt to set the Guinness World Record for a human greeting card. The Christmas card, built on the football field with 1700 students, teachers and administrators spelled out "Happy Holidays" for the Eyewitness News cameras and several local newspapers.

C.A.T. also organized an intramural volleyball tournament between third period classes. The tourney lasted approximately six weeks and was played during lunch three times per week.

Membership in C.A.T. included representatives from various campus cliques and grade levels and was supervised by principal Dave Andrews.

Brunswick hosts Tuesday bowlers

The bowling club met at Orange Brunswick Bowl between 3 and 5 every Tuesday afternoon. The advisors were Gerri Ankerman, Mary Cummings and Gail Pinnell and the club president was Greg Waltz.

Membership was large with 36 students involved on 12 teams. Trophies were awarded weekly and also at the end of the season.

Fall semester trophies were awarded to the most improved bowlers Kelly Winston and David Wilson while the league's high average went to Karla Saunders and Mike Stutz.

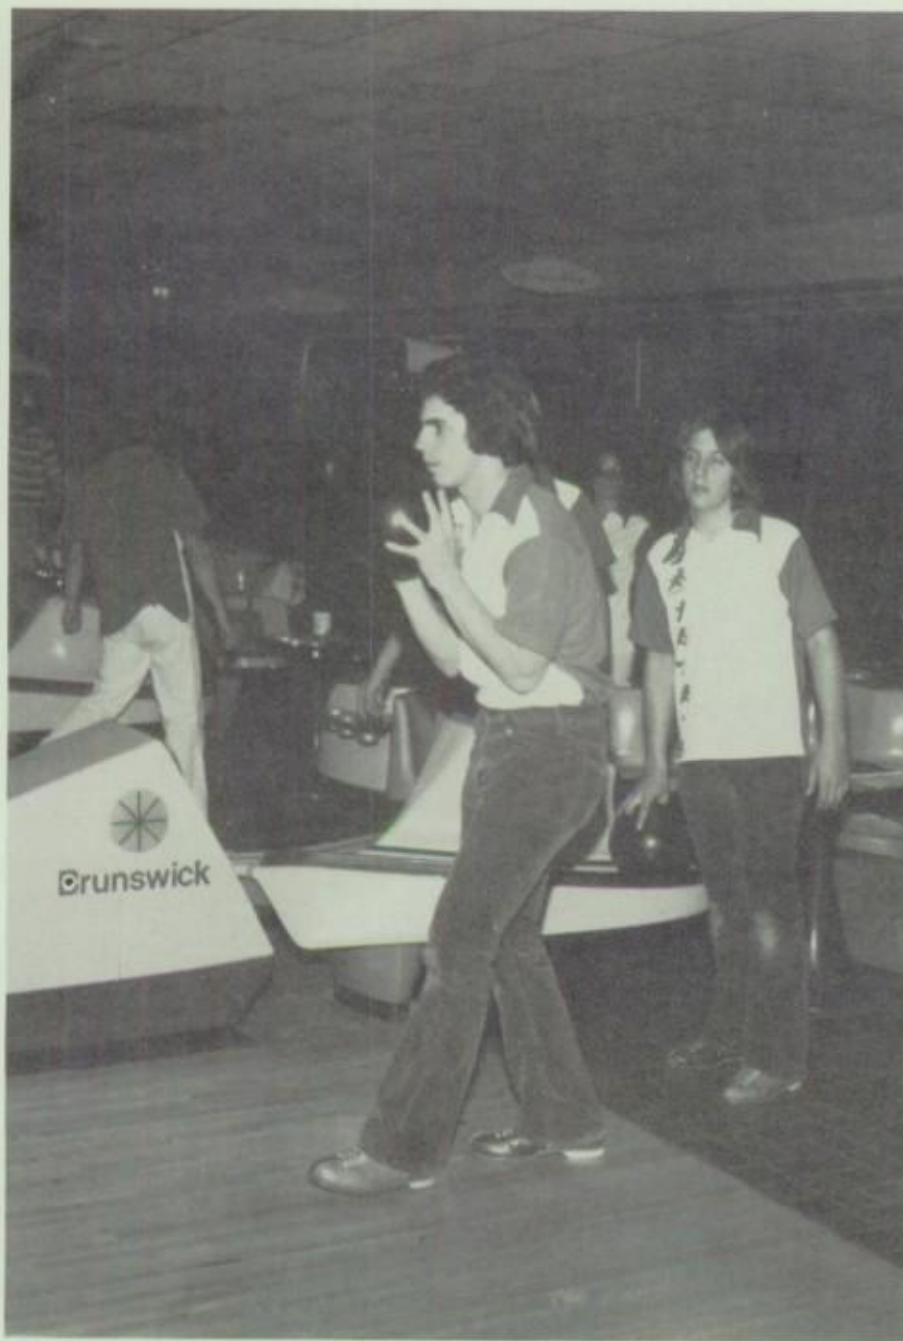

Cheryl Smith, Janet Adams and Wiley Foults were the first place teams first semester. The second place team was Shari Kertson, Robin Ridgeway and Myrna Nunnelly while the third place team consisted of Scott Hanson, Craig Bowman and John Baker.

Foreign Exchange Student Day was another project for the club members. Foreign exchange students were guided around the school and attended a pot luck in their honor.

Advisor Sharon Caron arranged for the members to take a field trip to Marcelle and Jeanes, a French restaurant.

The most successful part of the year was co-sponsoring foreign language week with the foreign language department. The March activity featured Spanish dancers, snail races, food sales and a guess-the-mystery-language contest.

VICA serves school, community

Although the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) usually participate in statewide competitions, the Esperanza chapter served their school and community.

The print shop did work for the Placentia Unified School District and other school districts, as well as clubs and community organizations. They also printed the Placentia Parks and Recreation folder for their 1978-79 season.

The metal shop repaired the batting cages on the athletic field and constructed some equipment for the weight room.

Drama club helps produce two shows

"The play's the thing." This quote from Shakespeare best described the drama club.

Members produced two mainstage shows, "Look Homeward Angel" and "You Can't Take It With You." They also ushered, provided refreshments for intermissions and served as production crews on the shows.

In addition, 12 students attended an annual acting and technical workshop at Cal State Fullerton. Members were also encouraged to attend outside productions so many students formed groups to take in plays at El Dorado, Valencia, Katella, Orange and Brea Olinda High Schools as well as professional shows in Los Angeles.

Dancers present 'Brand New Day'₁

"A Brand New Day" was the theme of the annual dance production which was held in the little theater May 22 and 23.

The 22 dances were all choreographed by the students who performed them, except one which was designed by dance teacher Leslie Rode who also took charge of the entire show.

Again this year, disco was more prevalent than other types of dance proving that it was still the most popular form of music.

The technical crew, led by Joe Fusaro and Mark Stephenson, helped to add excitement to the evening with special lights and sound equipment.

NHS initiates Shakespearean film festival

Because of the monetary success of the film showing, a special scholarship was established for a graduating NHS member. Alyse Rome was awarded the initial $100 grant at the Aztec Awards night.

Besides keeping up their standards of leadership, scholarship, character and service, the Esperanza chapter of the National Honor Society established an annual Shakespearean film festival.

This year's selection was Franco Zepherelli's "Romeo and Juliet." So popular was the film, that it was sold out far in advance of its two performances on April 5 and 6.

CSF peddles pies, candy bars

Fund raisers and the decision to make career day a semi-annual event symbolized the California Scholastic Federation.

In addition to their annual pie sale, CSF sold candy bars instead of their usual stationary. CSF also decided to return to their original plan of having career day on a semi-annual basis instead of annually as in past years.

The club of 50 members was led by president Tom Smith, vice president Gil Peterson, secretary Shannon Dailey, treasurer Lynn Wolocatiuk and advisor Louise Levy.

Oceanography treks to Catalina

Braving wild pigs and treacherous seas, the oceanography club treked to Catalina Island for three days of research on May 10, 11 and 12.

Although each participant paid $50 for his trip, numerous fund raisers were held to earn the remaining funds necessary. In addition to a car rally held in the spring and a carnation sale in the fall, each club member was required to sell one case of M and M's during their candy sale.

During their stay on Catalina, students took nature hikes, went snorkeling and completed various phases of oceanographic research.

Club advisor Jerry Miller was assisted in the organization of the group by president Tom Reinsvold, vice president Kevin Criddle, secretary Julie Peters and treasurer Paula Clifton.

Juniors host prom at La Mirada CC

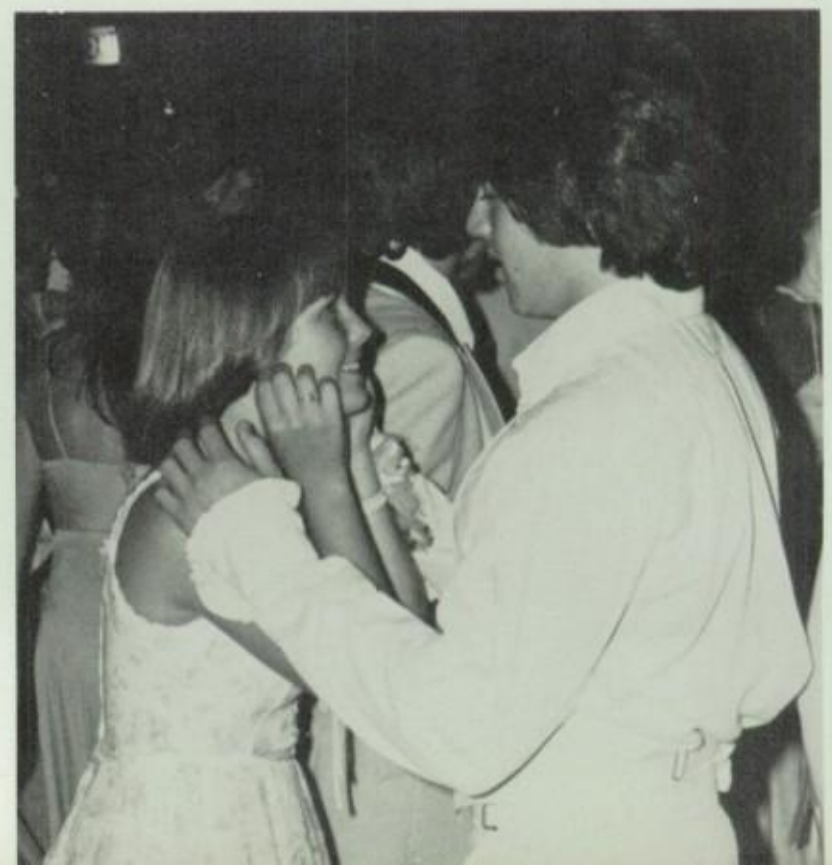

Dedicated to the senior class, the Junior-Senior Prom was held May 5 at the La Mirada Country Club.

Carrying out the theme of "This One's For You," junior Lisa Gonzales sang the famous Barry Manilow hit for seniors Donnie Munoz and Karen Kilmain, who were crowned as prom king and queen. Gonzales was accompanied by Brad Warren on the drums and Steve Sheffield at the keyboard.

Couples danced to Carry On who played many danceable disco hits. "They sounded amazingly like the original groups," said Susie Yamamoto, junior class president and main organizer for the event.

Despite a California gas shortage at the time of the prom, 195 couples attended the formal, enjoyed free soft drinks and cake and had their pictures taken by Albert and James Studios.

Juniors win powderpuff game 13-12

Had it not been for four big plays in the June 1 powderpuff game at Brea High School, the score might have ended in a 0-0 tie. However, the juniors won the defensive battle 13-12 handing the seniors their second consecutive loss in the annual game.

On offense, both teams showed no signs of driving anywhere with the ball. Between the two teams there were five first downs, two for the juniors and three for the seniors, two of which came on pass interference penalties.

The junior touchdowns were scored by Donna Esposito on a 55-yard run and Carol Wade who also streaked 55 yards for the score. Their thirteenth point, which later proved to be the difference in the game, was scored after Esposito's first quarter touchdown. Esposito passed to Terri Edison for the extra point.

Senior touchdowns were scored by Susan Kychenthal on an 80-yard run and Debbie Corr on a 55-yard romp.

The fact that powderpuff came off at all was an accomplishment. The game was originally called off by principal Dave Andrews because of pre-game activities resulting in destruction of school property in past years. After much dispute with student council, Andrews withdrew his decision to cancel the game and agreed to leave the burden of responsibility on the students.

In accordance with the newly-drafted rules, practices started two weeks prior to the game and were held only on campus. An organized "decorating" of the quads under janitorial supervision took place the morning of the game. A pep assembly was held in the same day featuring routines by the male cheerleaders and a skit by some teachers.

Spring play features unusual set

In April, the little theater was transformed into an unusual household from the 1930's. Many strange objects were scattered throughout the living room of this house; a skull, dart board, xylophone, printing press and erector set were only a few of the objects. Along the walls, animal heads hung in conspicuous places over the tacky lime green wallpaper. This strange transformation served as the setting for the drama department's spring production "You Can't Take It With You."

"You Can't Take It With You" is George Kaufman and Moss Hart's comedy about an eccentric, but loving family who manage to make the most out of life during the Depression.

The production, which ran April 20, 21 and 26 was unique as it marked the first comedy drama teacher Susan Payer directed at Esperanza. This was also the first time a false floor was used on a set in the little theater. The floor and set was designed and built by junior Joe Fusaro.

Sophs face test, tougher grad standards

Becoming the first class to take the PUSD proficiency exam and the first class to be affected by the new graduation requirements, the class of 1981 had one thought in mind, "Don't look back."

Prompted by the passage of the Hart Act in 1976, all California school districts were forced to show that their students met minimum proficiencies in math, grammar and writing before they would be allowed to graduate. Placentia Unified School District's answer to the new law was a district-wide exam constructed by PUSD teachers and district personnel. Every student, beginning with the sophomores, were required to pass all sections of the test before receiving a diploma. Those that failed were channeled into remedial programs to prepare them for taking the test again.

In its first go-round, 86 percent of the sophomores passed all three sections of the test. A breakdown showed that 93 percent passed math, 91 percent passed reading and 91 percent passed writing.

Sophomores were also faced with new PUSD graduation requirements. Total credits were upped to 230 from the previous 220. Along with the extra credits, students were required to take one more year of language arts and one more semester of social science. (The class of 82 would be required to take two more semesters of social science.)

The tougher grad requirements and proficiency exam are examples of a general trend towards the emphasis on basics in education. "I think one thing the Hart Act does is it makes students study, retain and use basic skills," stated Al Hawkins, assistant principal in charge of curriculum.

“Hopelessly Devoted”

A dedication to 70's individuality

*Sometimes the light's all shinin' on me
Other times I can barely see
Lately it occurs to me
What a long, strange trip it's been
"Don't Watch the Wheels."
The Grateful Dead*

Reflecting on the twilight of the 1970's, this quote from the Grateful Dead seemed more in tune with what this decade has meant to people's lives than most other lyrics of the 70's that readily come to mind.

It has been indeed quite a long, strange trip. It was the decade in which most of us matured and evolved into rational human beings: it is hard to look back on this decade without some sense of bewilderment, sentimentality and nostalgia. Our entire lives have been pre-shaped and molded in this last decade.

But what actually is a "decade?" After all, it appears to be only an arbitrary grouping of years, a convenient and decimally efficient method for man to judge the passing of time.

World events, social trends and individual lives do not change, emerge or disappear with the clock-work precision of the calendar: human events are far too unpredictable to be so easily categorized in neat ten-year packages. Yet, in twentieth century America, it has become practical, even necessary, to isolate and identify socio-economic trends and metamorphosis within the perceivable confines of ten year periods: the Roaring 20's, the Depression 30's, the Wartime 40's, the Contented 50's, the Activist 60's.

Whereas in all previous human history it had taken tens, hundreds and even thousands of years to identify a particular trend or change in the structure and outlook of human society, in this century the world had changed so rapidly that to make any logical sense or meaning out of it all, Americans created a more compact way in which to observe history and the confusion of a changing world - the decade.

All of which brings us back to the 1970's. What are the "changes" which have occurred in America since 1970? Judging from the major news events from the last ten years, it has not been as boring, or to use a 70's catch-word, "mellow" as we may believe. There was Watergate, the rise, fall and pardon of Richard Nixon, the collapse of Vietnam, the Arab oil embargo that brought with it the now familiar preoccupation with energy, the first unelected president in U.S. history, the election of Jimmy Carter, the first successful spacecraft landing on Mars, the Bicentennial ... the list goes on and on.

Still, of all these events, how many have had a direct impact on our lives? Only a handful, if that. While national and international events may occupy our interest for days, weeks, or even months, in the end they are pushed to some dusty file cabinet in our minds and forgotten completely. How many of the topics portrayed on these Time magazine covers are immediately recognizable? Not many ...

within each individual's life which determines the exact meaning of a decade. The triumphs and troubles of the world provide only a casual backdrop to what goes on in each of our lives every day; each person provides their own impression, their own reality of what the 1970's were all about. There can be no central, binding theme which holds true for every individual.

Thus, it is to this spirit of individuality, the true spirit of the 1970's, that this yearbook is dedicated. The last ten years, changing, evolving, growing toward the future, have provided each person with their own memories and dreams, sorrows and happiness. There may have been better conceivable times, but the 70's were better than most. Perhaps more importantly, they were our own.

Administrators deal with Prop 13 cuts

Complicated by an increasing enrollment that finally topped the 1900 mark, administrators were forced to deal with Proposition 13 cutbacks and change of key personnel.

The loss of a receptionist, AV clerk and reduction of the counseling staff were the major cuts forced by Prop. 13 while principal Dave Andrews and his staff also had to deal with the loss of assistant principal Terre Krause who took a principal's job in Fresno and Andrews' secretary Faye Burks (formerly Archuleta) who resigned near the end of the year because of her marriage. Orange High School's George Allen was hired to take Krause's place and counseling secretary Carol Farquhar took over as principal's secretary.

"This certainly wasn't a stable year," commented Andrews. Other problems included teacher unrest over contract and salary negotiations, campus vandalism and adjusting to the seven period day. Adding to the difficulties, Andrews was off campus a great deal serving as president of the Orange League.

To sum it up, there were more students, a reduced staff, fewer service people, less money and less campus control.

Counselors reach out despite cuts

Despite cutbacks in counseling time because of Proposition 13, the counseling staff set out to build better communication with their students by knowing each one individually.

One of the toughest new tasks taken on by counselors was contacting the parents of the students who did not pass the new district proficiency exam.

With seniors, the counselors helped with seminars, vocational workshops, financial aid and interpreting applications.

The counseling staff was a "cohesive" group, according to assistant principal in charge of the group, JoAnn Ball. "This is what held the department together and provided success for the students and the counselors themselves," said Ball.

Health teachers offer up-to-date information

Providing a wide range of up-to-date information, the health department was a well designed program, according to health instructor Gerri Ankerman.

The department used video tapes to present information and start discussions while students also participated in a new nutrition program which provided them with information on dieting in a nutrition booklet.

School nurse Eleanore Holderman, who had to share her time with two elementary schools, was on campus three days per week to serve students. She administered her routine check of vision and hearing to sophomores. Holderman also found time to screen freshmen for scholiosis and taught breast self examination to juniors and seniors.

Calculus offered for first time

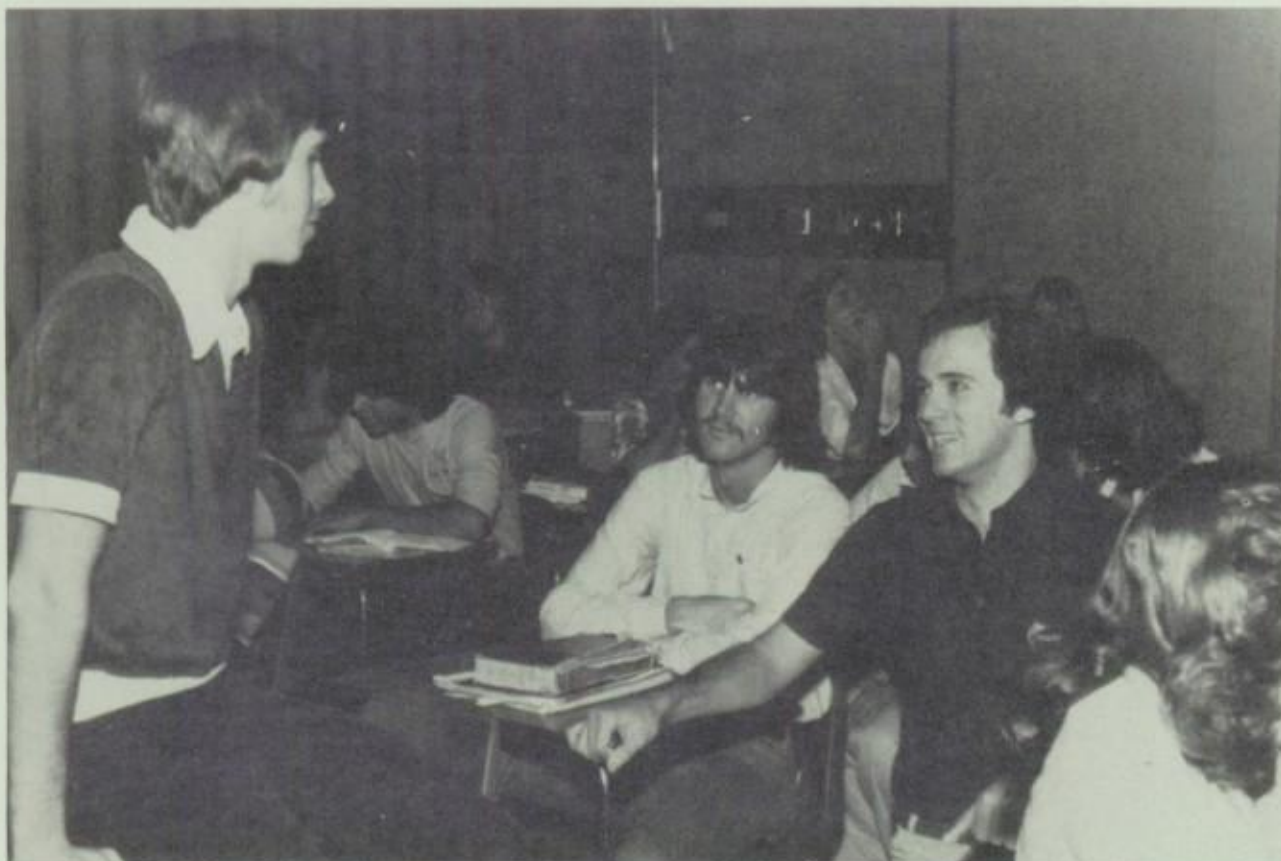

1. In hopes of obtaining as much as ten college credits through advanced placement tests, many students took calculus which was offered for the first time by the math department.

Taught by department chairman Ed Seela, calculus was available to those students who completed Algebra I, geometry, Algebra II and trigonometry by the end of their junior year. The class was designed to make calculus in college easier by providing a basic background for the topic.

Seven students were selected to participate in a math contest held at Orange Coast College in March. The team consisted by seniors Tom Smith, Tom Reinsvold, Russ Stephany and Julie Rice, and juniors Joe Tate, Scott Galloway and Mark Tinkle.

English classes prepare for Hart

Concentrating their efforts on preparing sophomores and freshmen for the district's new proficiency exam, language arts teachers hit hard on the basic English skills of grammar and composition.

Mandated by the Hart Act which forced school districts to prove their students have mastered basic skills in writing, grammar and math, the test was administered to the sophomores in October and the freshmen in February. Students must pass the test before being allowed to graduate from the district.

In a further return to more traditional education, tougher graduation requirements were adopted by the board of education adding a year to the English required curriculum. Beginning with the sophomore class, students must take four full years of English classes including Language Arts I, II and III and two electives, one of which must be a writing class.

Department chairman Michael Corrado, long an advocate of the more traditional approach to education, was very pleased with the tougher grad requirements. He emphasized that because of the Hart Act exam, every teacher on campus was now a teacher of English.

Memory writer added^{1.}

Introducing students to the word processing field was the goal of the business department when it purchased an IBM memory typewriter with funds provided by the federal government.

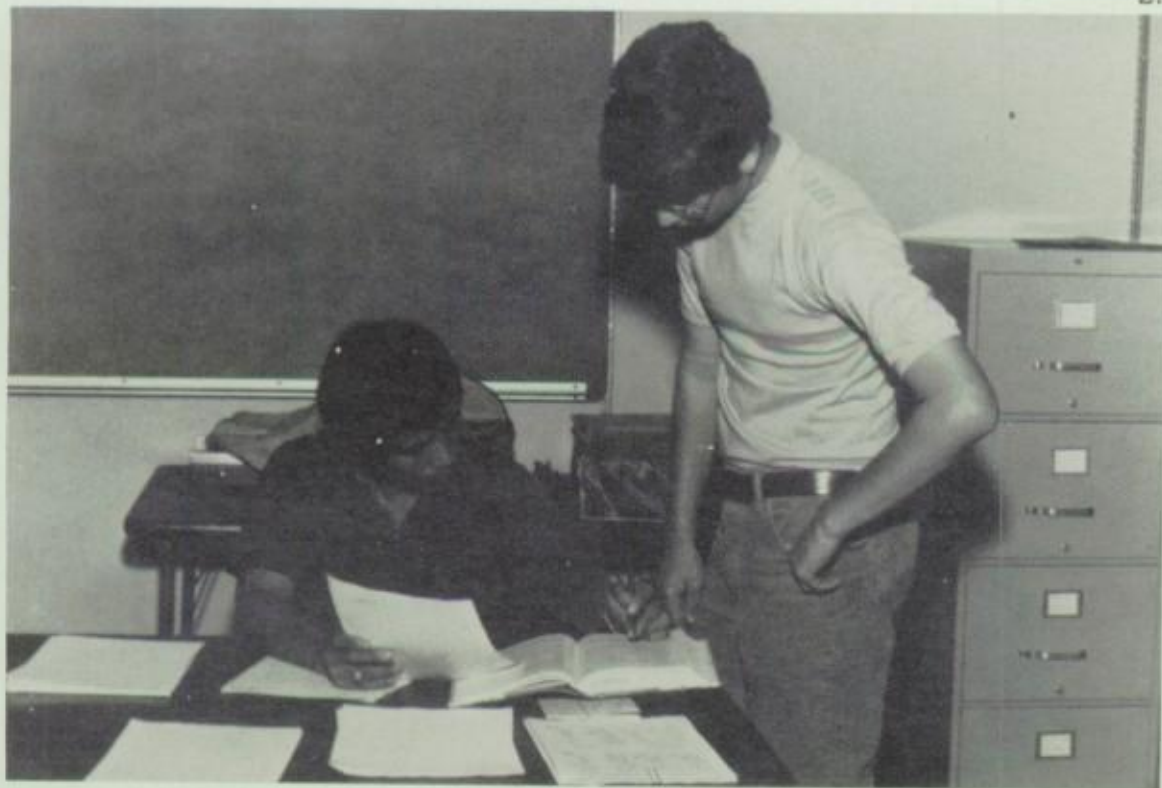

According to department chairman Jean Hubiak, word processing is the "office job of the future," and the typewriter, which can be programmed to automatically type 180 words a minute, will help to train students for jobs in the word processing field. Students enrolled in the classes Office Machines, Office Training II and Typing II had access to the new machine.

Office Machines was a new course added to the business department offerings. In addition, new electronic calculators, and transcribing and dictating machines were purchased to better prepare students for office-oriented careers.

In an effort to break the image of only cooking and sewing, the home and consumer education department also offered classes in child development, interior design, pre-school training and needlecrafts.

Industrial arts students through the Vocational Industrial Arts Club of America (VICA), worked for other programs from within and outside of the school especially with graphic arts projects.

The addition of two new teachers, choral director Kathy Lopez and band director Gary Nouskajian brought new dimensions to help excel the fine arts department.

Under the direction of Nouskajian, an all-new jazz band was started. Featuring some of the big band sounds of the 30's and 40's, the musicians entertained at basketball games in their initial year.

Under Kathy Lopez, the choral department achieved greater heights with more performances and a talent show.

Student work was displayed in community exhibits including a month's showing of crafts and ceramics at the Yorba Linda Library.

"The art department has moved ahead each year and excelled in all aspects, thanks to new equipment, enthusiastic, dedicated artists and overall experience," said department head Joan Higbee.

Despite the cancellation of German classes, the foreign language department had a successful year according to chairman Louise Levy.

The loss of classes in German was "unfortunate," said Levy, "but our French and Spanish classes were successful."

Library staff cut

Proposition 13 cutbacks took their toll on the library's availability to students and teachers.

For example, the library was not able to open its doors before school so many students were left in the hall. The library also functioned without a full-time AV clerk which limited the use of video tape by the faculty.

The library, however, did receive some good news with a $10,000 grant from the federal government for new books and a selection of paperbacks from the Reading Is Fundamental (RIF) project. The money meant the library was able to add 5,000 books to their collection.

Custodians set back by gas leak

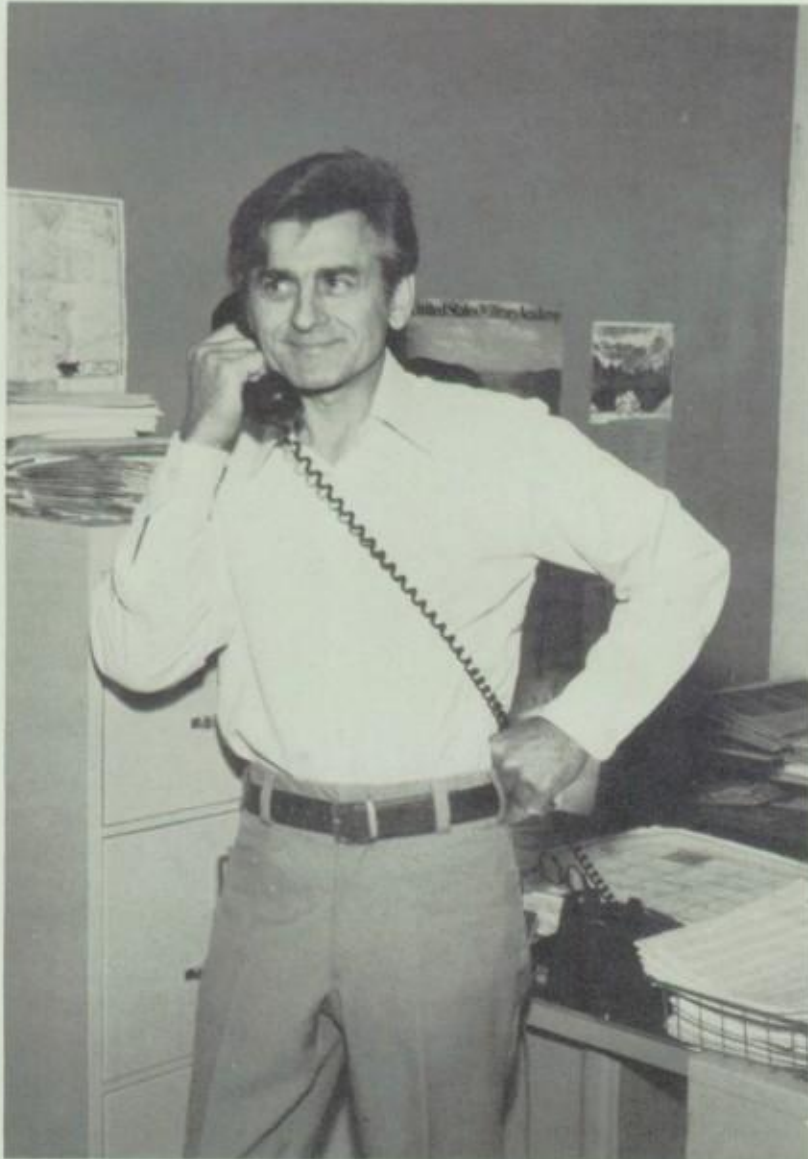

Lowered to a smaller staff in the aftermath of Proposition 13, head custodian Dick Pugh and his now small staff were set back even further by campus vandalism and a gas leak.

The vandals, two of which were caught after a $100 reward was offered by student council, broke a gas meter and sprayed various messages around the quad area.

As the district was repairing the meter, a series of leaks were discovered. By the time all the leaks were repaired, the entire pipe system had been replaced at great expense.

1. Head custodian Dick Pugh polishes his new electric car. 2. Doing her daily duty, matron Ramona Miranda cleans out lunch area drinking fountain. 3. Gas company officials and PUSD workers search desperately for gas leak. 4. District painter Mac McCormick gives the lunch area patio a face lift.

Club helps career ctr.

Faced with a limited budget, career center director John Marcinko received help from the service club.

Based on proceeds from the "Last Chance Dance," the group was able to raise funds to increase the existing library, especially with new college catalogues.

Marcinko explained that the location of the center was still "temporary," so it limited ideas for expansion and renovation. Because the facility might be needed for a classroom in the future, chalkboards could not be removed to make way for posters and there were not enough outlets for view deck machines.

1. Career counselor John Marcinko makes final arrangements for Navy representative to visit campus. 2. Senior Randy Waterberry earns work experience credit. 3. ROP students Sherri Terling, Debbie Morford and Sherri Herring learn to use teaching methods from NOCROP advisor Lorie Gonia.

Israel, Egypt agree; China recognized

Prompted by the last minute shuttle diplomacy of U.S. President Jimmy Carter, former bitter enemies Israel and Egypt came to terms and signed a peace treaty.

Carter announced another breakthrough on the international scene, the official recognition of Red China by the United States. The new bond quickly brought a state visit to the U.S. by Chinese premier Teng Hasio-p'ing and other Chinese officials.

Pole elected Pope

Poland's Karol Wojtyla, 58, became the first non-Italian Pope since 1522 in the Roman Catholic Church.

The Polish pope, from the outset of his election, set a more casual mood for his papacy. He even kept a promise by marrying an average Italian couple.

John-Paul succeeded John-Paul I, who died after only 33 days in office. John-Paul I, whose papacy was one of the shortest in the history of the church, succeeded Pope Paul VI.

SALT treaty reached

After six years of frustrating bargaining, secretary of state Cyrus Vance announced that the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and the United States had finally agreed on a Strategic Arms Limitations Treaty.

Basically, SALT limits production of three types of nuclear missiles, freezes production of a fourth and limits the number of missile launchers in both the U.S. and Russia. However, the treaty ignores such things as production of tanks, ships, planes and enlargements in the ranks of soldiers.

Iran ousts Shah

Following 25 years of iron-handed rule, Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi was ousted from Iran. Taking his place and returning to a tumultuous welcome, the Ayatollah Rujollah Khomeini promised to return Iran into an Islamic state. The religious leader had been exiled in Europe during the Shah's reign.

Nuke plant crippled

The red warning lights blinked incessantly on the instrument panel. A siren wailed to the nuclear power plant workers. "It" had happened. The worst accident in U.S. nuclear power history.

The scene of this nuclear nightmare was a small island on the Susquehanna River, 11 miles south east of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. In the following days, radio-active steam and gas poured out of the cooling towers, as citizens within a 10-mile radius of the Three Mile Island facility, were evacuated to Red Cross centers outside of the danger zone.

Jonestown suicides shock world

The mass suicide of 900 members of the California-based "People's Temple" in Guyana shocked the world.

In mid-November, Democratic congressman Leo Ryan set out for Jonestown, Guyana, after receiving several complaints about sect members being held against their will. After relatively little trouble visiting the compound and its leader Jim Jones, Ryan's group prepared to leave bringing along six to ten members of the cult who wished to return to the United States. As they boarded a plane for Georgetown, capital of Guyana, one of the defectors drew a pistol and started firing. The shots served as a signal to other "People's Temple" members who appeared and began shooting at Ryan's party. Ryan was killed as well as three newsmen and one defector.

While news of the attack traveled back to Jonestown the following day, members of the cult began a self-imposed ritual of mass suicide and murder. Intimidated by armed guards and lulled with sedatives and painkillers, parents and nurses used syringes to squirt deadly cyanide onto the tongues of babies. Adults and older children picked up paper cups and sipped the poison sweetened with Kool Aid. Families huddled together braced for death.

Jones was found dead also with a self-inflicted bullet wound in his head.

State, local news

Brown re-elected

Governor Jerry Brown, with his eyes on the presidency, defeated attorney general Evelle Younger in November to remain as California's chief politician.

Increasing his national recognition, Brown proposed a constitutional convention to put specific limits on government spending.

Long lines of cars wait for gasoline

Gas shortage brings long lines

In late April and early May, Californians began to feel the crunch as gas supplies ran out.

Gas stations begun closing on weekends and opened for only limited hours during the week. In some cases, gas stations received only 80 percent of their normal allotments.

Lines stretching over a mile became a common sight as motorists waited for as long as three hours for gasoline.

In order to alleviate the problem, the state implemented an odd-even rationing plan based on the last number on license plates. As prices soared to near a dollar, and the odd-even plan took effect, lines eased up towards the end of May.

145 die in crash

The second worst disaster in U.S. aviation history occurred in early October when a PSA jet, on approach to Lindbergh field in San Diego collided in midair with a tiny Cessna 172.

The flaming 727 plunged into the heart of North Park residential section completely destroying 12 homes and one full block. At least 145 persons were killed, eight of them struck by wreckage from the crash. Both men aboard the Cessna also died when their plane crashed some six blocks away.

The San Diego crash was the nation's worse aviation disaster until May when an American Airlines DC-10 headed for Los Angeles crashed on take-off from O'Hare Airport in Chicago killing 275 persons. Because the crash occurred when the left engine fell off, the disaster prompted a massive inspection, investigation and eventual ban of DC-10's by the FAA.

Tynes resigns; teachers almost strike

After 35 years of service to the Placentia Unified School District, superintendent John Tynes announced his resignation effective June 30, 1979.

Tynes served the district as a teacher, coach, employee relations coordinator and superintendent. He also received national recognition for developing a recreation program for children with perceptual problems.

The PUSD Board of Education selected Keith Larrick, assistant superintendent/instructional services, to replace Tynes.

In other district news, teacher negotiations for a contract and salary increase was a hot and often bitter issue throughout the year.

The teachers settled on a contract early in the school year, but were unable to negotiate a salary increase because of a state freeze on public employee raises. Very close to a strike, the PUEA (Placentia Unified Educators Association) and PUSD settled on a 5 per cent retroactive pay hike near the end of the school year after a state mediator took over the talks.

Rain causes slides; fire threatens YL

A rainy winter loosened many of the hillsides in Yorba Linda and throughout Southern California causing massive mudslides.

One of the worst hit areas was Bluebird Canyon in Laguna Beach where several homes were completely destroyed as large cracks opened in the hills and complete mountainsides came tumbling down taking the homes with them.

Fires again plagued Southern California with the worst blaze destroying many homes and large sections of wilderness near Malibu. A Carbon Canyon fire licked the outskirts of Yorba Linda, but no major damage was reported and no persons were injured or killed.

'Hunter' top film; disco fad flares

Films concentrating on the Vietnam War dominated the Academy Awards in 1979 with the "Deer Hunter" winning as the best picture.

John Voight and Jane Fonda, the leading roles in "Coming Home," won as best actor and actress while Christopher Walken of the "Deer Hunter" took best supporting actor. The only exception to the string of Vietnam winners was Maggie Smith who won as best supporting actress in "California Suite."

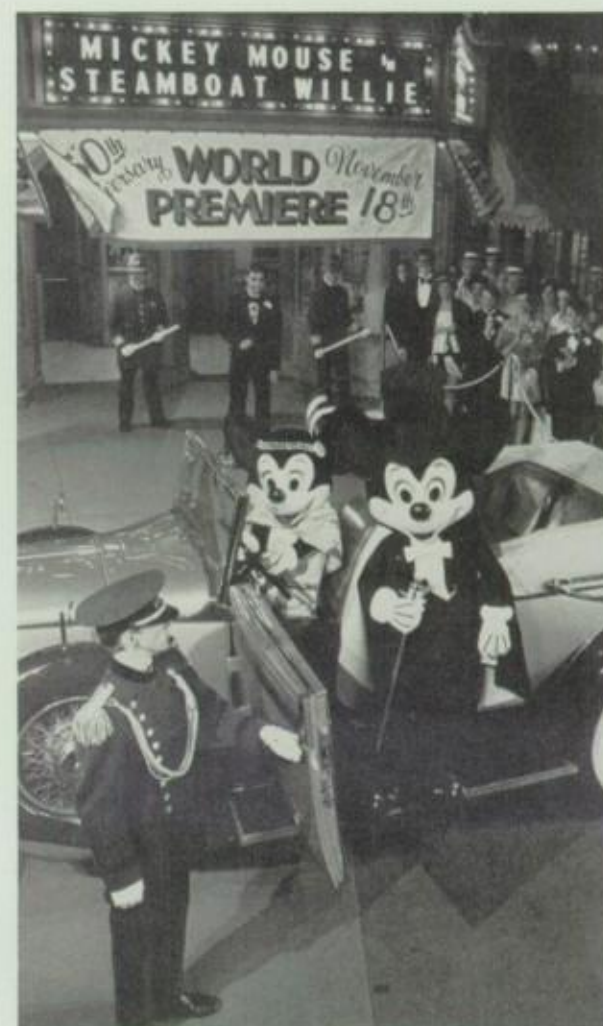

On the live stage, the two big hits were Annie, a musical about the Little Orphan Annie comic strip, and Zoot Suit, a musical drama about the Zoot Suit killings in Los Angeles during World War II.

Again this year, disco dominated the music scene for youth as well as many adults. Such groups as the Bee Gees, Donna Summers and the Village People were constantly on top of the charts.

Cocaine popular

Cocaine, once the mysterious drug used by Indians as a pain killer, increased in popularity and acceptance by young people, especially to increase their sexual drive.

Because it was labeled as "dangerous" by the Pure Food and Drug Act, it became hard to purchase and sold for as much as $2,000 per ounce. Cocaine users usually inhale the drug with miniture spoons and straws made out of dollar bills.

'Mork' tops in TV

"Mork and Mindy," a situation comedy about an outerspace alien researching earth people, was the TV hit of the year helping keep ABC on top of the ratings again.

Despite the hiring of TV master programmer Fred Silverman, NBC continued a dismal third in the ratings war. Silverman canceled all nine of NBC new 1978 fall shows before the season had even ended.

More bad news came to NBC when Johnny Carson, the 17-year veteran host of the popular Tonight Show said he wanted out.

Steelers 'Super' again

On Jan. 21, 1979, the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Dallas Cowboys rewarded 76,000 Orange Bowl fans and the second largest television audience in football history with a Super Bowl that lived up to its name.

The Steelers defeated the Cowboys 35-31 in an exciting, free-wheeling affair to become the first team to win the Super Bowl three times since the game's inception in 1967.

Yanks win Series

For the second consecutive year, the L.A. Dodgers defeated the Philadelphia Phillies for the National League championship only to lose to the New York Yankees in the World Series again.

The Yankees' victory capped an amazing comeback as they gained their second straight title and their third consecutive American League pennant. Trailing by 14½ games as late as July, the Yanks and Boston tied for the division title forcing the American League's first playoff since 1948.

Although they did not win their division, the California Angels enjoyed one of their best seasons finishing 85-77, only three games behind the pacesetting Royals.

The Dodgers, playing in memory of the late coach Jim Gilliam, won the first two games of the series 11-5 and 4-3. But behind the brilliant defensive work of Craig Nettles and the hitting of Reggie Jackson, Bucky Dent and Brian Doyle, the Yankees swept the next four games, 5-1, 4-3, 13-2 and 7-2.

USC national champ

In collegiate football, the USC Trojans defeated six top-20 teams en-route to winning a share of the national championship for the fifth time in the last 17 years.

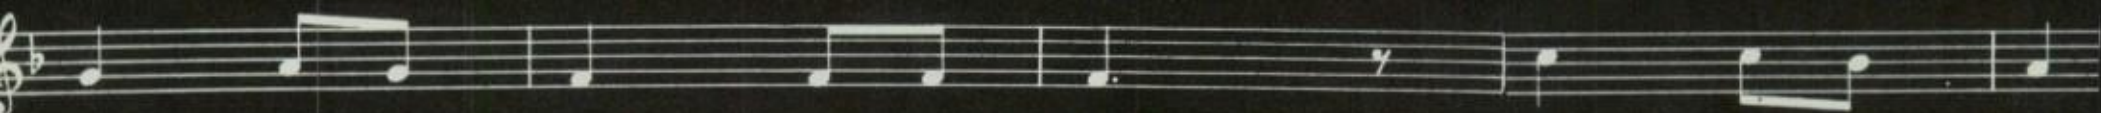

The Pac-10 champion Trojans, who finished the year with a 12-1 record, defeated Michigan (10-2) in the Rose Bowl, Alabama (11-1), Michigan State (10-1), Notre Dame (9-3), UCLA (8-3-1) and Stanford (8-4). USC's only loss came at the hands of Arizona State, 20-7.

The Trojans were voted number one by the AP coaches' poll, but the UPI writers' poll picked Alabama.

Volleyball reaches CIF semifinals

Surprising the powerful Orange League with a perfect 14-0 record, the volleyball team became CIF's cinderella club, winning their way to the semi-finals before being knocked off by Bishop Diego.

It was not only the spikers' best season, but the second highest plateau reached in CIF by any girls' sport.

The spikers started the season as an unknown, but under the direction of first-year coach Dal Dessecker, the squad defeated two highly-seeded teams, La Habra and Sonora. These upsets earned the Aztecs a third place ranking entering the CIF tournament.

The key to the spikers' success lay in balance, as five of the six starters were selected all-league. These include Donna Esposito, Susan Kychenthal, Brigitte McBride and Sherri Shimono. In addition, McBride was named the league's most outstanding player.

Another strong point of the squad lay in the awesome offensive quartet of Edison, Esposito, Kychenthal and McBride. The four spikers displayed the best offense in all of CIF.

Yet a third major asset of the team was their unbelievable ability to come from behind. In virtually every important game, the squad was capable of miraculous comebacks.

Overall, it was an amazing season for the spikers who may have started a volleyball dynasty here.

With a 7-8 record, the junior varsity had a disappointing year.

Coach Jeanette Smith said, "This season was a building year. There was much improvement of skill among all players. The team looks toward a good season next year because of the many returning players."

The main reason that the team had such a poor season was because of the lack of experience. "Our players were mainly freshmen and sophomores. We didn't have the skill to dominate the league. Therefore, each game was a challenge of skill and pride," Smith said.

The most outstanding player award went to sophomore Gina Koch. Other awards went to sophomore Kathie Thompson (coaches award) and junior Cathy Schaeffer (honorable mention).

Runners qualify for CIF prelims

For the first time since joining the Orange League four years ago, the varsity cross country team entered the CIF preliminaries.

The harriers didn't last long however for they only finished eighth in a field where they had to finish third or better to advance to the finals.

They made it into CIF by compiling a 5-2 league record and finishing third behind El Dorado and La Habra.

Coach Todd Ferguson attributed this year's success to the total team effort put out by his runners. They did it with only one senior, that being four-year varsity letterman Tom Sopp. Also contributing to the successful season were juniors John Lagenwalter, Bart Garner and Doug Mitchell along with sophomores Victor Garcia and Armand Del Duca.

Earlier in the year, the runners organized an ecology project to pay for their trip to a meet at Mammoth and to buy themselves new uniforms.

Running in their own league for the third year, the girls' cross country team ended their season with a 3-4 overall record. This year's coach was alumnist Laura Johnson.

"The team did much better this year," said Joan Stewart, girls' athletic director. Stewart also said that last year's team only won once by forfeit, and no one made the CIF team.

11-1 gridgers defeat El Dorado; win first Orange League Championship

Ranked as Orange County's top team in the Orange County sportswriter's final 1978 prep football poll, the varsity gridgers finished the regular season undefeated and won their first Orange League title before being upset by Cinderella CIF Central Conference champion-to-be Mission Viejo in the first round of the playoffs.

The Aztec's high point of the season came Oct. 27 when they came from behind to beat arch rival El Dorado for the first time, 13-10.

Junior tailback Mike Keefe led the team's ball control offense as he rushed for over 1,000 yards and scored an amazing total of 17 touchdowns. Keefe's finest two games came Oct. 19 against Fullerton when he rushed for 130 yards and four touchdowns and Nov. 3 when he gained 225 yards and scored three touchdowns versus Brea.

Quarterback Mike Ludwig, with the benefit of a tremendous offensive line, enjoyed a fine senior season as he completed 57 percent of his passes.

But the main reason for the Aztec's success was their 178 - varsity football relentless, hard-hitting defense. Because of players like noseguard Greg Thompson, tackle Chris Monson, tackle Pat Rogers and linebacker Bob Wood, the gridgers outscored opponents 193-83.

The Aztecs were caught off guard by a fired-up, well-coached Mission Viejo team in the first round of CIF, 26-6. Despite being outgained offensively, the Diablos capitalized on several costly Aztec turnovers and were never really challenged. The embarrassment of the loss, however, was removed three weeks later when the upstart Diablos beat El Dorado for the Central Conference title.

Several Aztecs were rewarded for their play with prestigious post-season awards. Eight Aztecs were named by the league's coaches to the all-Orange league team; offensive tackle Dave Chapman, offensive tackle Steve Williams, center Joe Ryan, Keefe, Monson, Thompson, Wood and defensive back Joe Hampton. Monson was named "lineman of the year" and "North Orange County's best lineman" by the Daily News Tribune and he shared a similar OL coaches award with El Dorado Chris Dressel.

Sophs win OL crown

Finishing the season as league champions, the sophomore football team coached by Dave Stout and Jay Wenzel earned a 6-1 record for the Orange League and an 8-1 overall mark.

Awards went to tailback Marc Miscione for most valuable player, fullback Chris Williams and noseman John Roney for most improved, and center Mike Baker for most inspirational.

Frosh earn 4-3-2 mark

The freshman football team ended the season with a 4-3-2 record.

"The freshman team has potential to become league contenders in the future," said coach Bob Whiteman. Rick Svoboda and Jerry Jarrett also took part in coaching the team.

Most valuable lineman went to Jerry Stroup. Most valuable back went to David Keefe while Henning Peterson received most valuable player honors.

Tennis girls upset in first CIF round

Ending their season with a first round CIF loss to Culver City, the varsity tennis team captured the Orange League title for the fourth consecutive season.

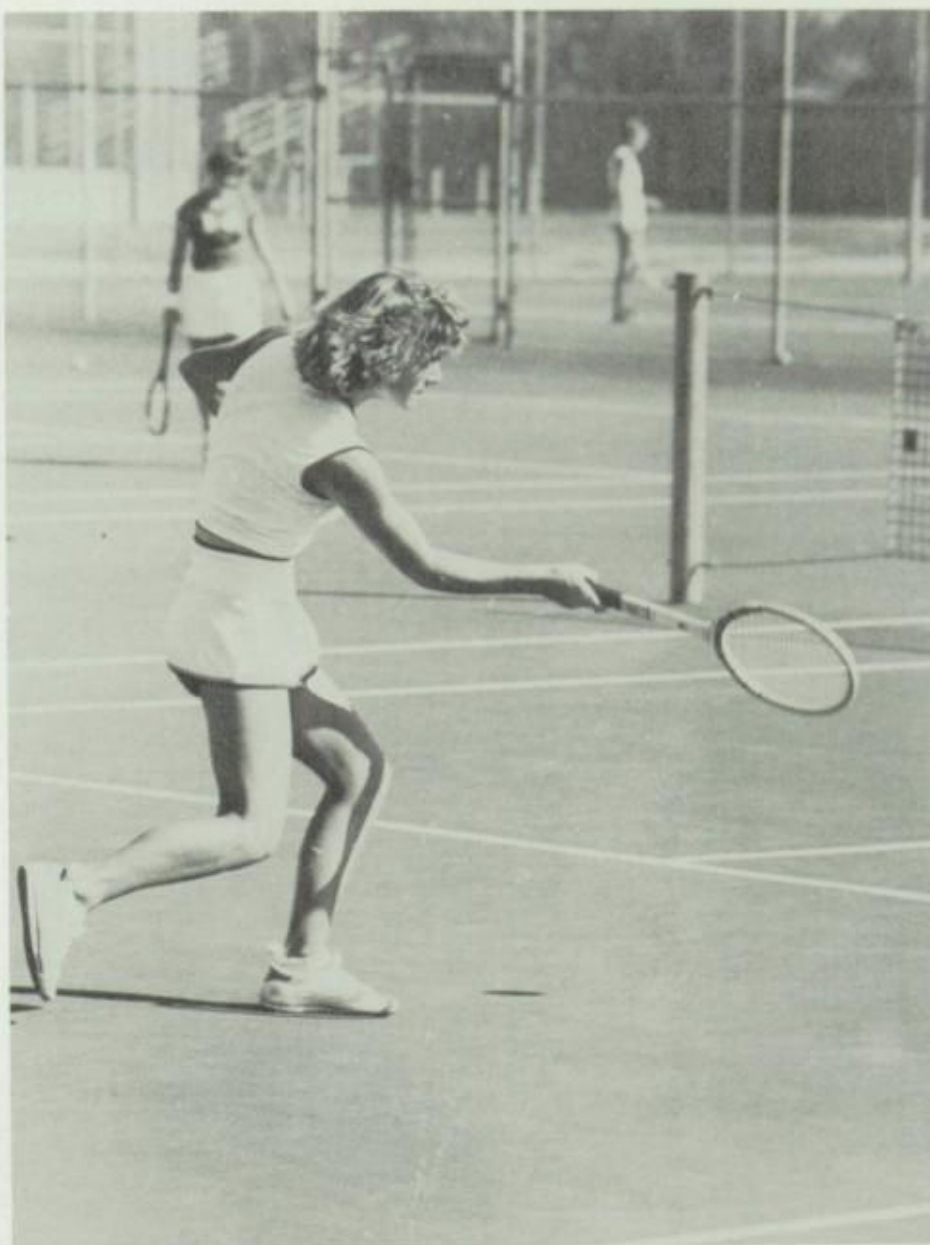

Coach Jean Agee's undefeated (14-0) league team was led by Carol Sawa, Roxanne Johnson and the doubles play of Lynn Trittippo and Daphne Panagotacos.

This year was highlighted by championships won by Sawa, who defeated El Dorado's Kristi Blankenship in three sets and Panagotacos and Trittippo who claimed the doubles OL title.

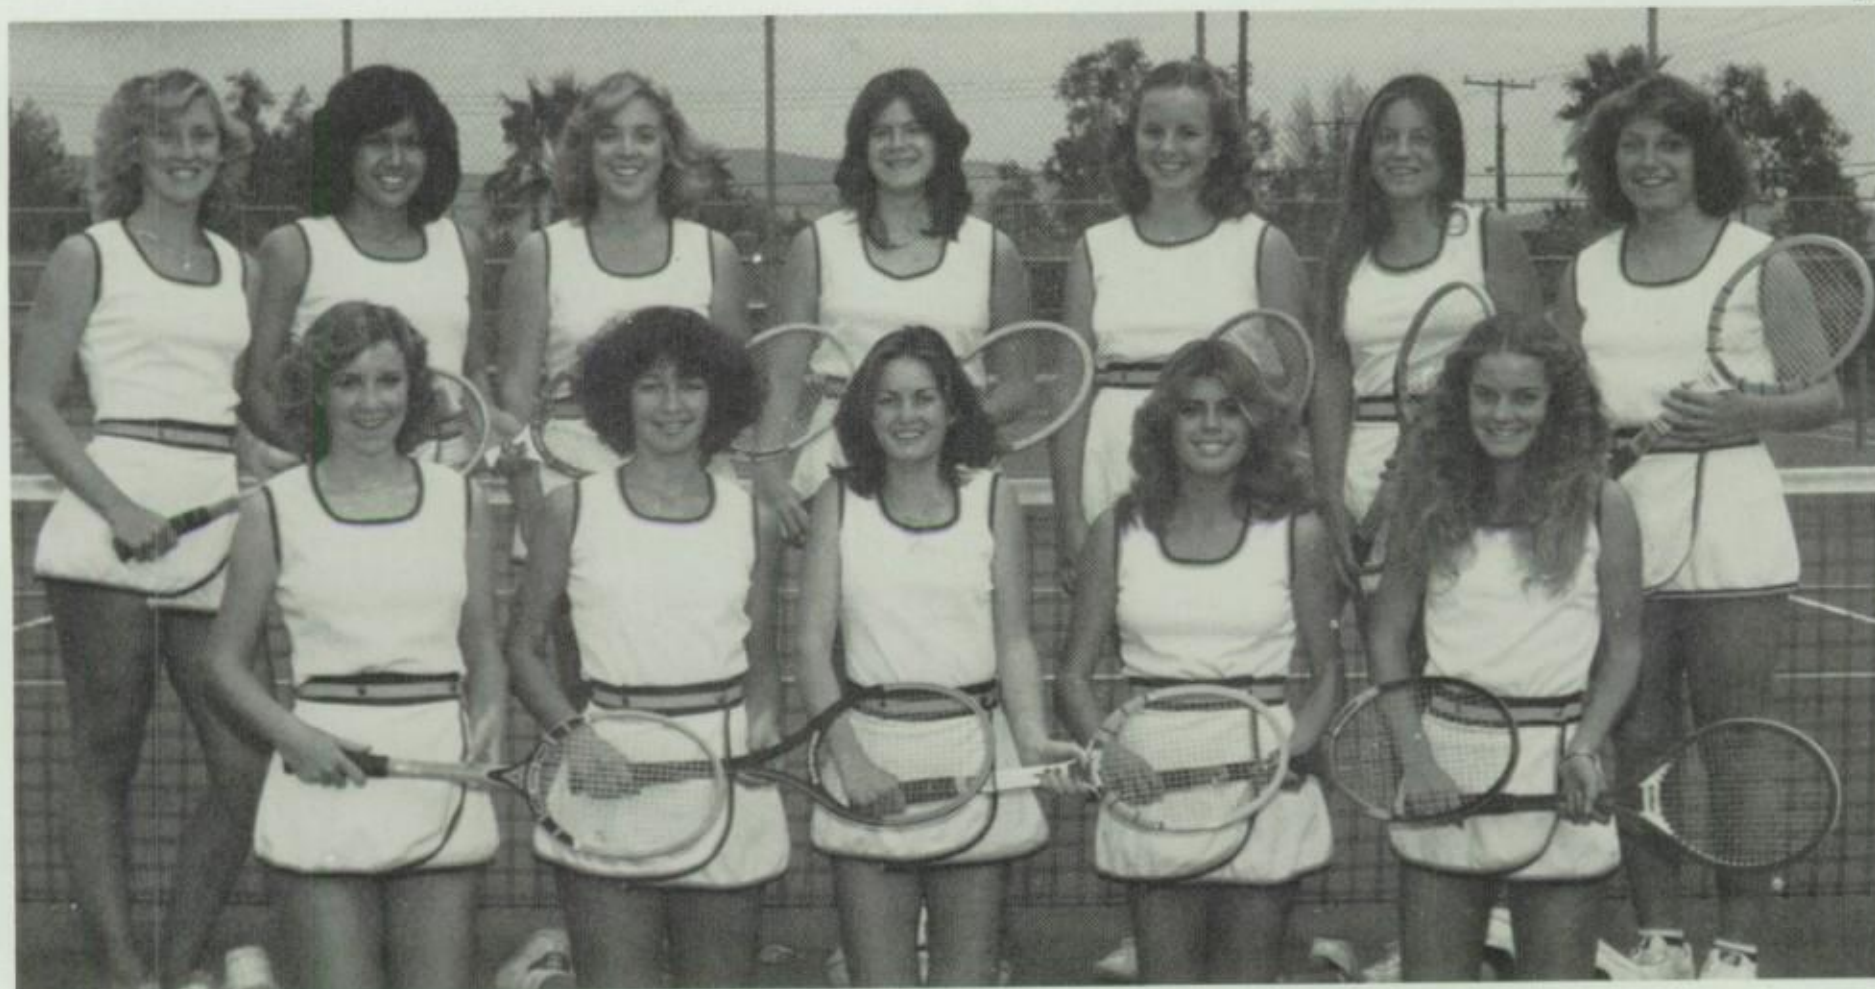

Seniors Chong Koh, Tracie Day and junior Shauna Chalman, Patricia Wood and Patty Prescott comprised the rest of the squad.

The JV racketmaidens also won the league championship with a 14-0 record. Cindi Garcia was the team's top singles player and Gretchen Smith and Holly Chriss formed the number one doubles team.

Waterpolo 5-2

Earning a 5-2 record and a third place league finish, the varsity waterpolo team earned a CIF berth but was defeated in the first round.

Their first round foe, Santa Fe, soundly downed the Aztecs to abruptly end their season. Nevertheless, it was a year of improvement according to coach Bob Gaviglio. "The best group of seniors I've worked with," he said.

Leading the team were seniors Doug Kimberly, Russ Fleck, Paul Bopp and junior sensation Eric Van Wechel.

Overall, it was a successful year for the poloists, who hope to challenge El Dorado for the Orange League title in 1979.

1 Compiling an impressive 11-4 record, the sophomore water polo team took second in the Orange League.

The team became one of the league's finest by working out four to four and a half hours per day, according to coaches Bob Gaviglio and Mike Moore. "The tough part was getting up in the morning," said Gaviglio. "The kids really deserve some merit for the large effort they put in," he added.

One of the high points of the season was finishing second among 16 teams at the Villa Park Tournament. "This was really an achievement. It was where all the hard work paid off," commented Gaviglio.

At an awards banquet in January, outstanding freshman Nancy Sadlak and sophomore Ian Campbell were honored.

A pick-up junior varsity league season was also held, but many of the Aztecs' opponents had to forfeit matches because they didn't have JV teams. Esperanza was able to earn a 4-3 record on the junior varsity level.

Cagers 7-7 in OL

Enjoying their finest Orange League season, the varsity cagers compiled a 7-7 record enroute to a fifth place finish under new coach Van Bye.

"I think we played as close to our potential as any other team in the league," stated Bye. "We really didn't have a 'down' game."

Senior Mike Adams, the only Aztec picked on the all-league squad, was the second leading scorer in the Orange League as he paced the cagers with a 19.4 points per game average. Junior Greg Artman, who defeated Sonora on a follow-shot at the buzzer in the season's most exciting contest, scored at a 13.9 clip while senior Joe Hampton averaged 13.2.

Adams, Artman and Hampton paced the Aztecs to average 64 points a game as a team, the highest in the league. Esperanza was also the only team to place three scorers in the top seven.

Besides the 54-53 win over Sonora, the Aztecs split two games with new league entrant and champion-to-be Lowell amid controversy and hot tempers. The Patriots, led by Gary Heil who averaged 23.1 points per game, upset favorite La Habra to capture the school's first OL title.

Freshmen take second in league

Finishing the season with a 14-4 overall and 11-3 league record plus second place in the Orange League, the freshman basketball team had the best season among the boys basketball teams.

Most valuable player was David Bainter while Tom Leineberg earned most inspirational, and Joey Adams and Darryl Harman were most improved. "This year's freshman team was the best crop of talent in the school's history with an unusual amount of togetherness for a freshman team," said coach Kirk McIntosh.

At the junior varsity level, Mike Moore's team earned a 12-10 record which was an improvement from last year. The JV cagers went 6-8 in a tough Orange League. At the awards banquet, Kevin Kotska and Paul Thummel were named most valuable JV's, Steve Enlow earned most inspirational and Tim Wills received the coaches award.

Coach Jerry Miller's sophomores played hard during a frustrating 7-11 year. Highlight of the season was a single game record of 72 points against La Habra. Bob Arroyo and Dan Herron were most valuable players while Mark Loeffler was honored as most improved.

Girls OL tri-champs; reach second round

Without a senior on the team, the girls varsity basketball team finished with a 16-3 overall record and a CIF berth.

"All the girls on this year's team played together last year. Therefore, they had that one more year of experience to make everything work," stated coach Cec Ponce. "Krista (Lubanko) added a lot of offense to this year's team considering we had a 4-10 record last season," added Ponce.

Two girls made all-Orange League, Brigitte McBride and Donna Esposito, while three girls received honorable mention, Terri Edison, Kelly Sturgeon, and Lubanko.

After an incredible finish of four straight league victories, the Aztecs were tri-champs with La Habra and Sonora. They defeated Valencia, Fullerton, La Habra and El Dorado in the last four regularly scheduled games of the league season to earn the CIF berth.

The cagers destroyed Troy in the first round of the play-offs 70-48 but came up short against Capistrano Valley 43-36 to be eliminated in the second round. The Aztecs were in the game until the end against Capistrano.

"We had an excellent season," stated Ponce. "Our girls should be proud. Besides that, everyone is coming back next season."

On the JV level, the girls finished third in the Orange League with an 8-6 record. "Compared to last year's five-win season, we had a brilliant year with a 10-7 overall record because our team worked hard," stated coach Bill Pendleton.

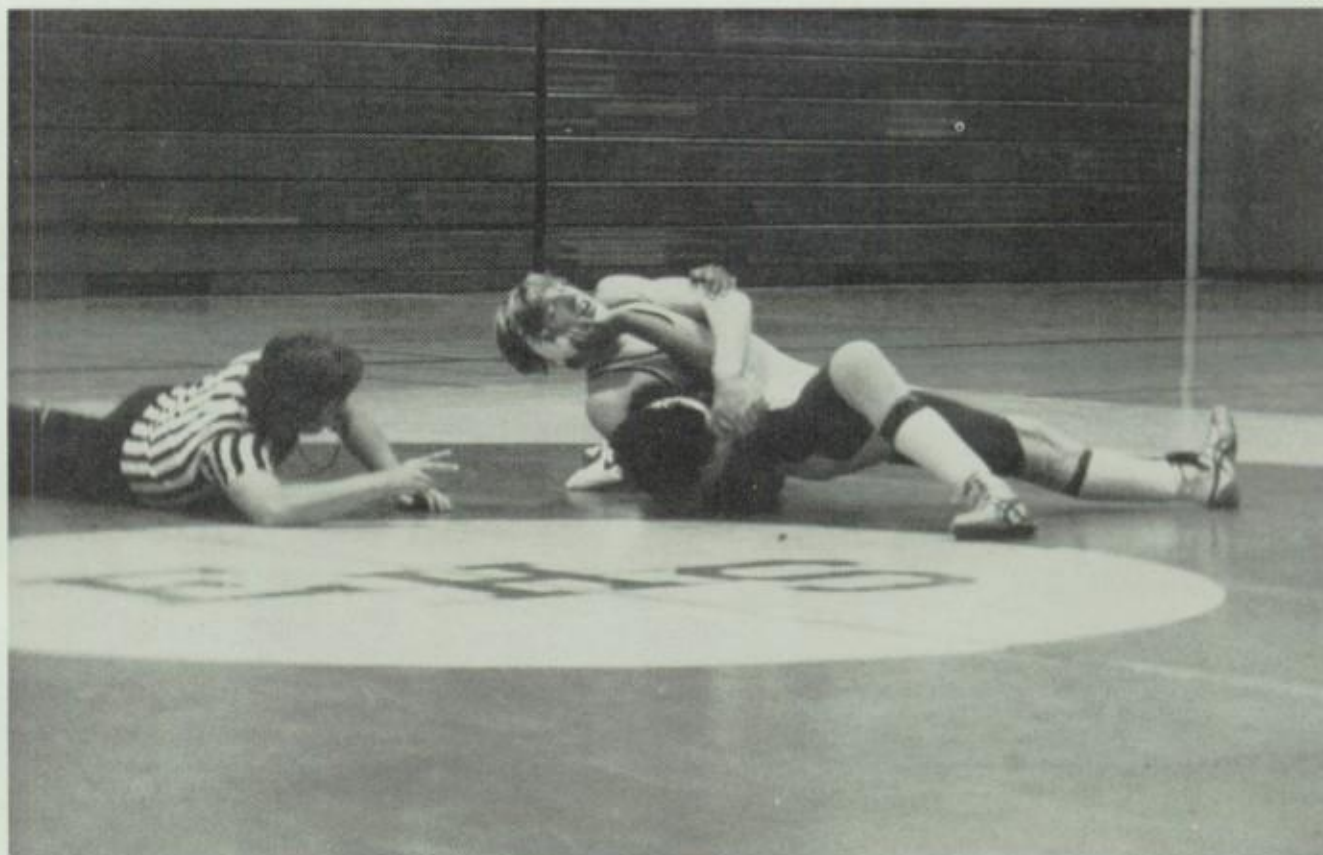

Terin Cygan won the most valuable JV award and led the team in free throws. Beth Elliot won the most improved and led the team in field goals attempted, field goals made, fouls, total points, games played and per-game average.

Martinez, Zabala, Ames OL champs

Although the varsity wrestling team finished third in league, individually the year was a success.

Three grapplers, Richard Martinez, Rick Zabala and Mike Ames captured Orange League titles, and at finals, a record nine Aztecs placed.

While five of coach Dave Stout's wrestlers qualified for CIF, only one, Zabala, continued into the finals. In his third trip to the CIF championships, Zabala finished second in the preliminaries before being eliminated in finals.

Early in the season, the wrestlers held the league lead, but were knocked off by OL powerhouses Brea and El Dorado. At league finals, the team just missed upsetting the previously-undefeated Wildcats by two points.

For team awards, Zabala received most valuable, Martinez most improved and Ramon Abound the coaches award.

The JV team, which was blessed with a solid line-up through all weight divisions, strolled to the league championship with a perfect 5-0 mark in OL matches and an overall 9-3 record. Their season was highlighted by a complete 63-0 thrashing of Fullerton in the last match of their schedule.

Most outstanding JV wrestler was Armand Del Duca and Tracy Troy received most improved honors.

Meanwhile, the frosh-soph team posted a 6-8 record and were 2-2 in league. Most outstanding awards went to Greg Gribble and Chris Weik.

Gymnasts finish third¹

Improvement was the one word which was synonymous with the gymnastics team.

"The team improved from last year," said coach Shirley Pietrok. According to Pietrok, Julie Wilks was their best all-around gymnast. Wilks placed fourth in league in all-around, but she failed to make CIF finals.

The team as a whole tied Brea and El Dorado for third place at the Orange League meet.

Van Wechel sole CIF representative

Despite falling to fourth place during the Orange League finals, the boys varsity swimming team enjoyed their most successful season under coach Bob Gaviglio.

Going into the finals, the Aztecs were in third place trailing Orange League champion El Dorado and Brea. In the finals, the fish let Sonora, a team they beat during the regular season, slip into third place.

Junior Justin Zitny, who was expected to place in the backstroke event, separated his shoulder prior to finals and was not able to compete. According to Gaviglio, "If Zitny would not have been hurt, we would have finished third."

Junior Eric Van Wechel, who beat El Dorado's experienced tandem of Grant Jeffries and John Peterson for the league's 200 freestyle championship, was the only Aztec to qualify for CIF competition at Belmont Plaza in Long Beach.

In the prelims, Van Wechel qualified for consolation finals by swimming a 1:50.7 in the 200 free and a 5:02.3 in the 500 free. In the consolation finals, Van Wechel finished fourth in the 200 free with a 1:50.1 time and sixth in the 500 free with a 5:02.5.

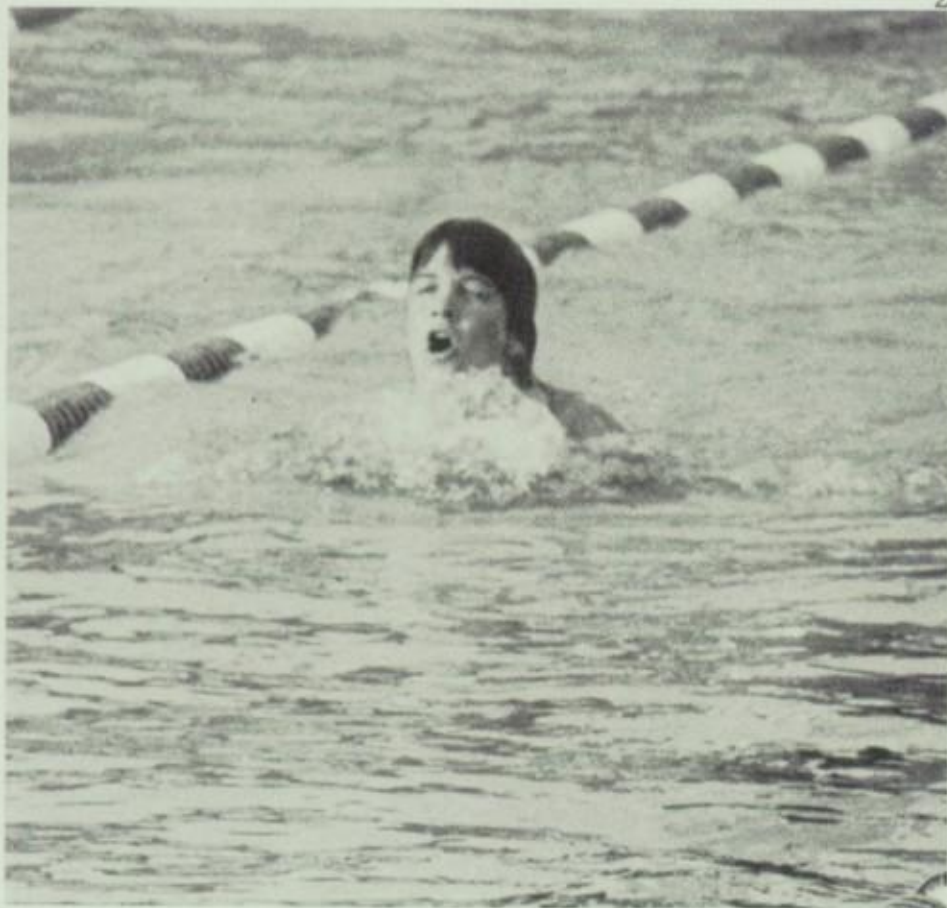

The frosh-soph swimmers compiled a 12-10 OL record and earned a second place finish. They were paced most of the year by Rob Barath and Neil Fawcett.

Swim teams both earn 7-1 marks

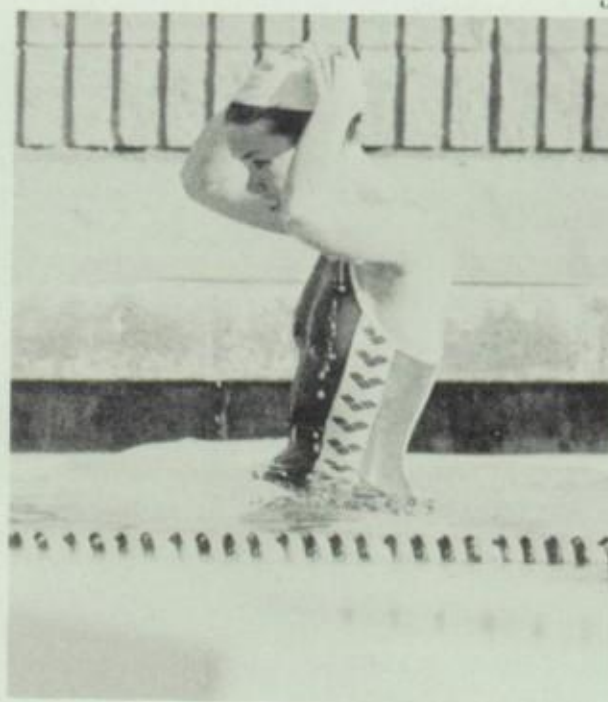

Under the guidance of varsity coach Bob Gaviglio, JV coach Jeanette Smith and diving coach Fred Brown, the girls swim teams had their most successful season ever.

Both the varsity and JV's finished with identical 7-1 records in Orange League action being defeated only by El Dorado. Both also came in second in the Esperanza Invitational.

The team's record was exceptional under the circumstances that they missed over half of their practices because of mishaps with the swimming pool, a broken heater, problems with the chlorinator, a broken pump and gas leaks.

The girls re-wrote the school record book setting marks in all events except one. Freshman sensation Nancy Sadlak set five of the varsity records herself (200 IM, 100 fly, 100 free, 100 back, 100 breast).

Sadlak, along with Robin Simmons, Karen Ullrich and Carlene Archibald, traveled to CIF earning a seventh in the finals of the free relay. Simmons also placed tenth in the 200 free.

Golfers OL champs again

Winning their second league title in a row with a 17-0 OL record, the varsity golfers ruined their aspirations of a CIF team championship by missing out in the first round of play.

With a season average of 390, the clubbers traveled to Mission Viejo Country Club for the first round of CIF and shot 422, needing only 411 to qualify them for the Southern Section finals which were held at Yorba Linda Country Club, their home course.

Coach Bob Claborn, along with the team members, felt that this was the year they could have won it all. "We were just unable to do it when it counted," said Claborn. "It was just one of those things that happens in athletics."

Qualifying for individual CIF competition were seniors Eric Saunders, Mike Adams, Jeff Goettsche and junior Joe Timpone.

Losing to only two varsity teams, the 14-2 JV golfers rallied to an Orange League championship. Leading the team were sophomores Greg Shaw and Tom Gilman, both of which are expected to be varsity players next year. Coach Al Safallo felt the team was strong enough to compete with several varsity teams in the area.

Field hockey winless

Even though they finished the Orange League season with an 0-7-4 record, the girls field hockey team did not have a disappointing season according to coach Rachel Smith.

"It wasn't a disappointing season because I knew we wouldn't take league without that many returners. It was also the most enjoyable group I have ever worked with," stated Smith.

End-of-season awards went to Christy Ellison for most outstanding; Shole Halverson, most inspirational; LaTonya Shull, most outstanding in offense; and Kristy Helm, most outstanding in defense. Each member of the team also received a flower for most improved.

Softball reaches CIF quarterfinals

Varsity softball - Front, Brigitte McBride, Cathy Sadlak, Kristi Helm, Terri Edison, Tammy Lane, Kristi Lubanko. Back, Sherri Shimono, Jill Jordan, Marian Coombs, Colene Burkhardt, Lisa Martinez, coach Cec Ponce.

Ending the season with a heart-breaking 1-0 loss to Troy in the quarterfinals of CIF play, the varsity softball team earned an 18-5 overall record and a share of the Orange League crown.

Pitching sensation Marian Coombs was the workhorse of the varsity recording a 16-5 record over the season. Marian was helped offensively by the hitting of Brigitte McBride, Sherri Shimono and Krista Lubanko.

Victorious in their last three must-win games of the season, the JV's captured the OL crown with a 12-2 record, one game ahead of El Dorado.

Coach Jean Agee's JV's knocked off Brea 6-5, Sonora 4-1 and La Habra 21-4 in their last three games to take the title.

Handling most of the pitching chores was Barb Spiro.

Batmen hit slump in 2nd half of race

After a quick start in the Orange League, the varsity baseball team went into a prolonged slump the second half of the season resulting in a seventh place finish.

Early in the year, the batmen were 4-4, and in the thick of a mixed-up OL pennant race. But while Fullerton took off at midseason (winning the league with a 10-3-1 mark), the Aztecs went into a 1-5 slide and finished 5-9.

According to coach Jim Ramos, the team experienced a fielding breakdown at midseason and poor bunting in several close games. This particularly hurt the fundamentals-based team.

In addition, the batmen's pitching unit faltered down the stretch in league, while it was much sharper early in the season. Staff ace Kevin Dempster paced the mound corps as he won eight of nine decisions while compiling an ERA of 2.58. Senior Russ Watroba, appearing mostly in relief, compiled an ERA of 3.70.

Overall, the team was weak-hitting also, although three Aztecs topped the .300 mark, shortstop Mike Ludwig, first baseman Bob Wood and outfielder-pitcher Watroba.

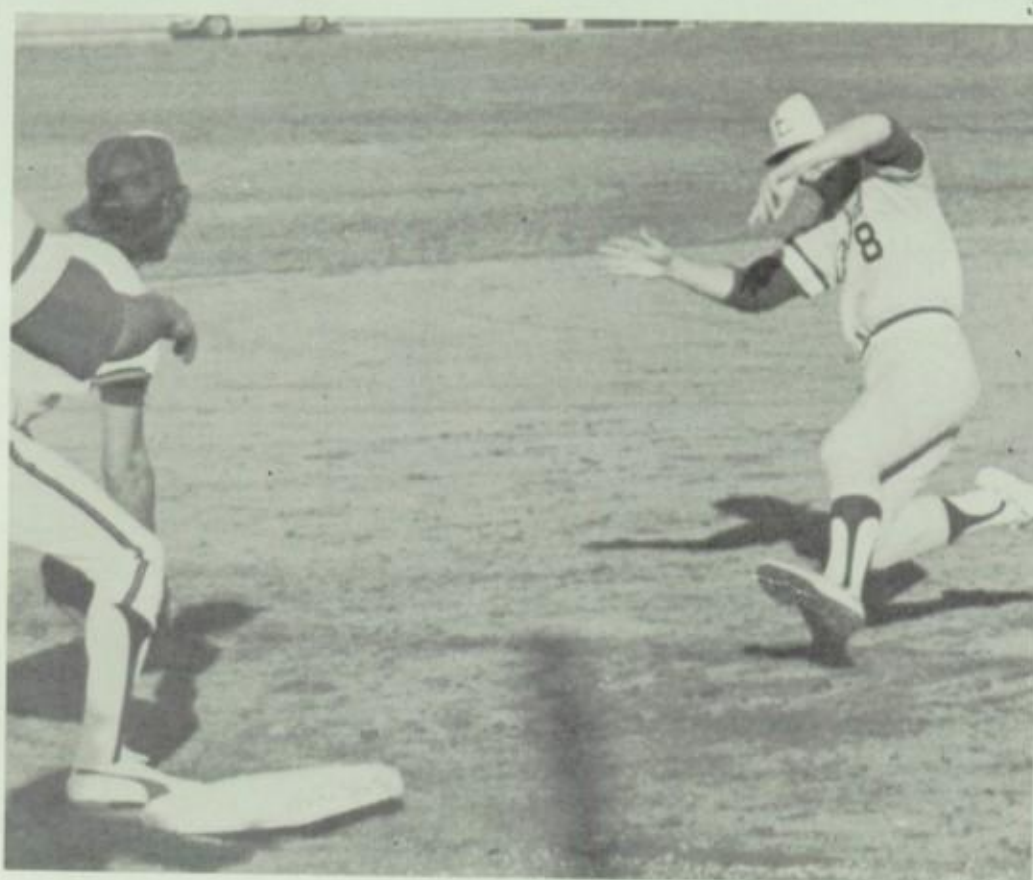

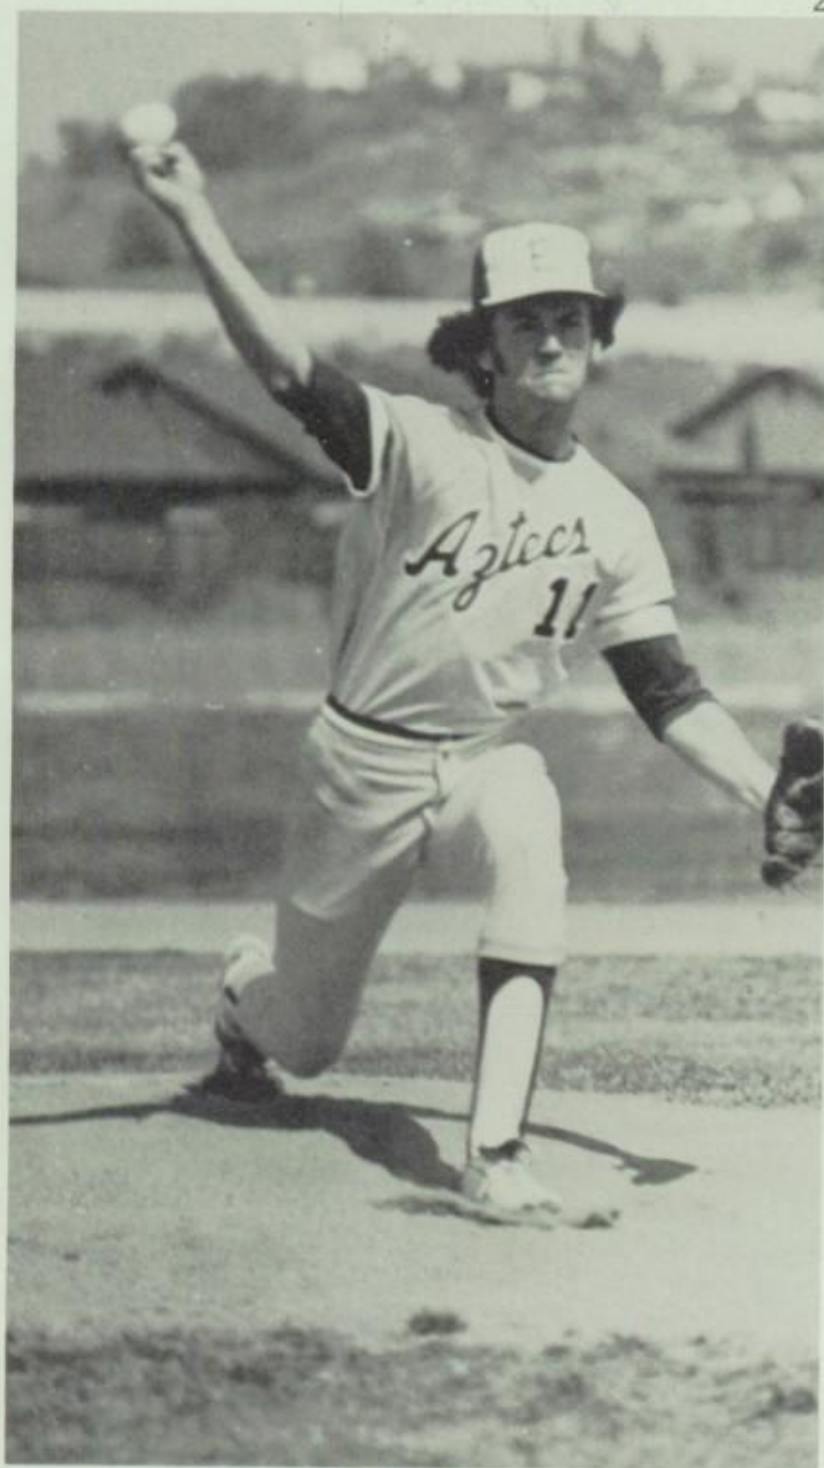

Jay Wenzel's JV team rebounded from a 1-4 start to finish fourth in their version of the Orange League with an 8-6 record.

Finishing 12-8 overall, the JV squad was led offensively by Brett Olson, Bob Labac, Greg Artman, Mark Josefsen and Tom Bohen, all who hit well over .300. Artman paced the club in almost every major offensive category.

Frosh-soph batmen win OL pennant

After opening the pre-league season with five straight losses, the frosh-soph baseball team bounced right back to win their first twelve league games enroute to a 13-1 league season and an OL title.

Hitting and pitching turned out to be the team's two strong points. Their team batting average was .319 with five players batting over .300, Eric Fulks (.517), Mark Beveridge (.441), Brian Gilbert (.385), Don Duncan (.368) and Paul Morales (.366).

The pitching came from the two starters, sophomore right hander Orlando Martinez and freshman south-paw Jerry Stroup, who were both about equal in all areas. They each gave up 12 earned runs with Martinez earning a 2.12 ERA and Stroup a 2.13. They were both undefeated with Martinez collecting six victories and Stroup four, and they each had four complete games. Stroup gave up 22 hits, Martinez 20 and they both had 51 strikeouts, an average of 8.5 per game.

Girls track ties La Habra for 1st

Girls varsity and boys frosh-soph track teams both won their Orange League championship.

The girls finished as co-Orange League champions with La Habra. Both teams compiled an 8-1 record. The frosh-soph boys went undefeated with an 8-0 record.

The outstanding performers were seniors Sue Kychenthal and Darlene Nash. Coach Rick Haulenbeck awarded girls of the meet as follows: Kychenthal (2), Paula Baskin, Kathy Salio, Nash (2), Shawn Sturgeon (2), Kelly Sturgeon(2), Martha Shea, Linda Herkert, Shanon Valdez, Dina Caffey, Carol Wade, Kathy White. Freshmen Shawn Sturgeon and Dena Beatty made CIF finals in the mile relay along with shot putter Margie Vreugdenhil. Tim Leach and Larry Berger represented the boys team, running the 440 yard dash and the high jump respectively.

The varsity and freshman boys teams both finished with 3-5 Orange League records.

Racquetmen earn 2nd place in OL¹

Although being defeated in the first round of CIF play, coach Kirk McIntosh's vastly improved tennis team finished the season with a 15-4 overall record and a second place in the Orange League.

The Aztecs' only losses in league play were to their nemesis and OL champ La Habra.

Senior Jim MacQueen had another outstanding year earning second place in the Orange League singles championships and a CIF berth. Also helping pace the team were singles players Garth Nelson and Jon Schulman.

The JV squad finished the season at 14-4 overall and 10-4 in OL play and were led by singles players Dana Rose, Ed Currier, Don Shires and Carey Thomas and the doubles team of Dan Herron and Jim Nixon.

The frosh-soph earned a 7-1 OL record and were paced by Karl Christoffersen, Norm Goldman, Henry Moreno and John Baker.

Seniors list most memorable songs

This year's seniors were asked, "What song will you remember the most from your four years in high school and why?" This senior section includes their answers.

Mike Ames- "Animal House"

Mary Anderson- "Macho Man" because I love to watch the construction worker shake it when he performs.

Katrina Anast- "If . . ." because our four years at EHS were filled with "what if . . ."

Avery Atadero- "Never Say Die!" The title speaks for itself. Keep trying, don't quit; my theme song.

Bill Ayres- "Lord of Thighs." Makes me think of what I like best.

Marion Bahner- "Theme from Chorus Line." This song ended a memorable part of high school which involved many friends and dances with performances. It also helped start a new part of high school and life for me. L.B.J.C.B.!

Lori Bay- "Hold the Line" because we always heard it on the way home from the football games.

Melody Bink- "Reminiscing." Only Patrick and I could understand why. "Thank you for being a friend," R.C.

Roberta Bixhorn- "The Famous Final Scene" because I realize that thanks to a good friend, Rachel Strickland, its only the beginning and not the end.

Linda Bobbio- "Night Fever" because it was one of the songs that made disco famous and I was one of those disco freaks.

Matt Bogoshian- "Whenever I Call You Friend." For all my great friends, MA, JJ, BW, JH, ML, MA, KK, BO, JR.

Barbara Bohen- "Don't Look Back" because of the fantastic times and memories that I shared with all my friends, especially Cindy and Alyse.

Paul Bopp- "Point of Know Return" because it was the song we did our flag routine for powderpuff.

Lois Boyd- "Colour my World" because it was the first and only song that Gary and I danced to at the Christmas formal 1977-78.

Brenda Brownlee- "Brick House" because it was the song that always made me and my friends real rowdy.

Marian Coombs- "This is the Life."

Debbie Corr- "Hold the Line" because it reminds me of a special guy in my senior year and all the good times we had!

Susan Corson- "Always and Forever." I will always remember everything that has happened in high school, especially formals, friends, the growing band and R.S.F. . . . forever.

Robin Costa- "Those Were the Days." This song fits perfect with all the memories I've shared with special people. I'll always remember The Ol' Gang, partying, Jaqui, Carl's Jr., cheerleading 77-78, Merlin, the river, The Doc (alias Binkers), powderpuff '78, Ron, Laurie, Dawners, Susie, Carl, Dan the Man, Brea Substation, Wamon, Bam Bam and Woodstock, Snubbers and last but not least my Main Munchkin: Avery!

Terin Cygan- "Shattered" because it reminds me of skiing in Utah.

Michele Davis- "We Will Rock You," "We Are the Champions" for the 1977-1978 football season; the powderpuff game my sophomore year; being followed by C.S.'s carload of people after that powderpuff game; the La Habra football game in 1977 (29-26); the pepsters' leadership retreat; all the fun I had with my five pepster pals; Spanish III my sophomore year and all the good times I had with M.L.

Tracie Day- "Bakers Street" reminds me of this last summer when me and all my friends got closer than we've ever been. We'd go down to the beach together, party together and whatever we did, it was all togetherness.

Debey Dean- "Some Girls." The whole tape reminds me of our first place Orange League football season with all my pepster buddies (Cynsi, Kazie, Duckhead, Miss Hawaii, Pappy, Pamita and the Mr. Booster fans). It also reminds me and Melynda of two certain people who we'll never forget. "Happy Anniversary" It reminds me of Dana and our dance in the dance show our junior year.

Marie-Yvonne de la Rosa- "Harmony" because it brings back the fondest memories of fun I had with wonderful friends.

Lisa Dillard- "Time in a Bottle" because if I could, I would bottle these last four years and treasure them forever. "You've Got a Friend - Forever." I'd like to dedicate this song to some people who made my senior year special - Dona, Dale, Pammy and my family.

Belly dancers Connie Chambers and Roberta Bixhorn "shake it" for their sheik on Halloween dress-up day.

Marie Mc Allister- "Dreams." All my friends and being able to come back to California.

Ron McLaughlin- "Kashmire." The "Family" and everything we did together. Partying after football games with A.A. Swan diving with Porky and Tricter. Partying at R.C.'s house and in A.A.'s car. The Pike. The Picnic. Football games. West Side Story. The Big Cheese. Lovin' and being with L.G.

Tom McMahon- "Yesterday" because all my yesterdays involved high school. My tomorrows will involve college and my future. My troubles were so far away, and now, they are here to stay.

Chris Nardiello- "Point of Know Return" by Kansas because it says what the past four years have been, and what the future will be, and many other reasons.

Laura Nicassio- "Reasons" because my friend had that song on a tape, and it would come on every time we would go to the beach or anywhere with a group of friends.

Brian Olson- "It's Only Rock 'N' Roll (but I like it)." The Stones get into it.
Cyndi Oxandaboure- "Color My World" because it was my first slow dance with Joe. "Boogie Nights" because it was my competition song for 77-78 flag with Jackie, Karen and Leah. "High School Dance" because it was my competition song for 78-79 flag with Karen, Janet, Penny and Mo. "Shattered" for all of Joe Hampton's parties last summer.

Sheryl Ozaki- "We Are the Champions" because it reminds me of our sophomore year when we beat La Habra 29-26, the five years of cheer with Michele, powderpuff, and beating El Dorado 13-10 our senior year for the Orange League championship.

Jeff Peddie- "Mama Told Me Not to Come" reminds me of the Peddie parties. "Cocaine" by Eric Clapton reminds me of some hot ski vacations.

Tawny Penfield- "Rock with Mickey Mouse" because that's the song Leia and I danced at Disneyland to and Chicago's "If You Leave Me Now" because that's the song that was playing when Danny and I broke up.

Levit Perez- "When I Need You" because it reminds me of the girl I fell in love with for the first time.

Mark Perkins- "Shannon" by Henry Gross because it reminds me of my freshman year with Lori Ferrin.

Pam Rice- "Diary" by Bread. I'll never forget my years at Esperanza. The dances, games, classmates, classes and teachers all made high school very memorable for me.

Katja Rinnert- "Blue Collar Man" because Styx was my first concert. That's all Jackie and I talked about.

Nancy Robinson- "Reminiscing." For all the good times my friends and I have had: football games, pizza and don't forget our good reliable first cars.

Pat Rogers- "Reminiscing." I don't expect anyone to understand this, but Melody and I: Olivia two F.A.A.D.

Andrea Rohwer- "With One More Look at You." Remembering all the special people I've met here at EHS and hoping to see them all once again in this wonderful world. I love you all.

Rose Romel- "The Way We Were" because we will never be able to re-live the joy of our high school years.

Steve Rovell- "Take It Easy" by the Eagles because that's what I felt like doing ever since I was a freshman. I'm sure lots of other seniors felt the same way.

Scott Rummell- "One of These Nights" because that's when I told my parents I would do my homework.

Cathy Sadlak- "Cherry Bomb." My freshman year at Sadie Hawkins, the Runaways played it three times and we sang it all night long. My best memory is when we were freshmen and we went to San Juan Capistrano. Two pigeons flew by and Michelle Davis said, "Look, that nice pigeon is giving the other one a piggy back ride." The freshman year was the best.

Cher Sanguinet- "Dust in the Wind" because I danced with my best pal Katrina who is more than just EHS dance class memories to me.

Carol Sawa- "We Are the Champions" because in 1976, the girls tennis team won the CIF championship.

Sandra Schaer- "Yesterday" because it will remind me of my past here at Esperanza.

Susan Sharp- "I Want To Make It With You" by Bread. It reminds me of the special times Tom and I have spent together.

Steve Sheffield- "Ventura Highway." Some people take walks - I go for a drive.

Sherry Shimono- "We Are the Champions" because that's the song that psyched and inspired Krista, Donna, Susan, Brigitte, Kelly, Teri, Terri, Fuzzy and I to go undefeated in Orange League in volleyball.

Larry Solomon- "Lady" by Styx because it is just like the years 76-79, easy, smooth and mellow. The song also talks about the togetherness and love that is at EHS.

LaTonya Shull- "Freebird," "I must be traveling on now."

Alex Smack- "Jesus Christ Superstar" because it's the song that took the band to the top.

Mark Smith- "Budweiser Theme Song" because it always perked me up during the third quarter.

Daren Stacy- "The Way We Were" because it's the laughter and special times we will remember, whenever we remember "The Way We Were."

Jackie Stahl- "Tonight's the Night" reminds me of Lake Powell.

Russell Stephany- "Solace." It is Scott Joplin's most lyrical work.

Kim Stephen- "It's Over" by Electric Light Orchestra. It's hard to believe these last four years have passed and it's over.

Katherine Stoneking- "I Had a Lovely Time." The song speaks for itself. High school will be my most memorable years.

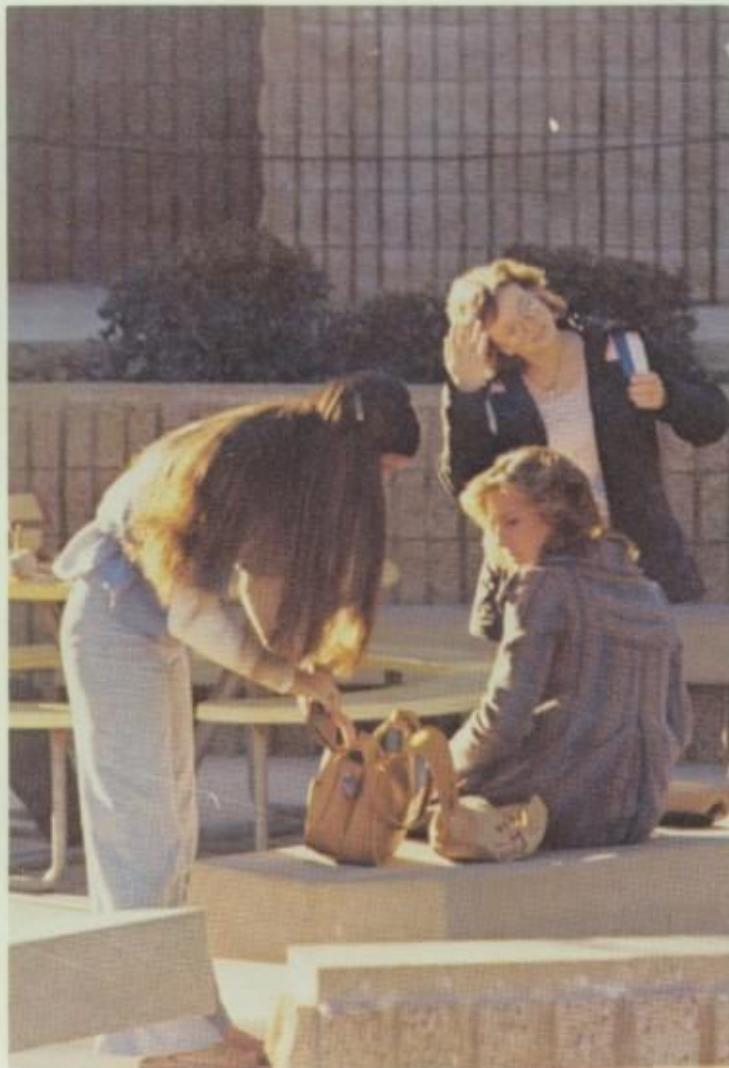

Rachel Strickland- "Devotion" because the realizations of my goals and dreams lies in my devotion to those I love, myself and God, for from Him emerges a beautiful tranquility of mind and strength of the soul- "life's treasures."

Russ Watroba- "Wasted Time" by the Eagles. It sums up about what I accomplished in high school.

Cindy Wilson- "Somewhere" because of the memories I keep from the drama department. Even when it seems like everything possible that can go wrong has happened, we always have a quality production. Of course with S.P., P.B., J.F., M.S., R.K. and T.B. there and everyone else, nothing less than "professional" can happen.

Ken Worthington- "Afternoon Delight" because when it first came out, I said I liked it to R.M. and he said it was a bubblegumer and always teased me about it. And by the nature of the name, it will remind me of A.T.

Cathy Young- "I'm Alive Again" because my boyfriend Kelly Benton came into my life and I started to live again.

Joni Young- "Take It To the Limit" by the Eagles. It reminds me of our outstanding football seasons (including when we beat El Dorado) and went undefeated in league play, partying with Carol, Penny, Jolene and company, Carol and Tim's rendezvous and just how much I've really gotten away with these last few years.

370 earn diplomas

Esperanza's fifth graduating class, numbering approximately 370, formally cut their ties with high school life Thursday night, June 14, in graduation ceremonies at Bradford Stadium.

Speaking at the ceremonies were student body president Carol Sawa, senior class vice president Jim Jorgenson and valedictorians Tom Smith and Tom Reinsvold. Pointing out that this was the last senior class of the 1970's, Smith talked about the kind of world he and his classmates were facing. Smith listed the numerous disasters in just the past year including the energy crisis and the two worst airplane crashes in U.S. history.

Jorgenson presented a poem recapping the class of 1979's four years in high school and Reinsvold spoke about success.

Principal Dave Andrews presented the class to retiring superintendent John Tynes, who, in turn, certified their accomplishments to members of the Placentia Unified School District.

After all the diplomas were handed out, senior class president Cathy Sadlak led the seniors in the traditional turning of the tassles from the right to the left side of their graduation caps. After the alma mater, the caps flew into the air and the seniors marched off the field to greet parents and friends.

Baccalaureate ceremonies, held in 90 plus heat, took place the previous Sunday, June 10, at Bradford Stadium in a combined ceremony with El Dorado and Valencia.

Grad night '79 at Regal Lanes

Hosted by a committee of parents, seniors celebrated their graduation during an all-night party at Regal Lanes in Orange.

Some of the activities the seniors enjoyed were bowling, the pinball machines, dancing to Phaux and the Disco Lab, and hypnotist George Sharp.

The parents also put together a baby photo contest and disco dance competition won by Melinda Kanipe and Ron McLaughlin. Donated by local merchants, a variety of door prizes included a fortune cookie maker, a Datsun jacket, silverware and a curling iron.

Each senior feasted on a cold cuts buffet and a continental breakfast, and received an envelope containing coupons from various fast food outlets and entertainment spots.

The theme of the party, which lasted until 6 a.m., was "The Way We Were."

Seniors signed a giant poster with their names and thoughts that will be unveiled again at their ten-year reunion.

Brains of '79 capture awards

Topped by an unprecedented five National Merit scholarships, the senior class compiled an enviable list of honors earning them the reputation of the "brainiest" class in Esperanza history.

Kevin Carrigan, Dan Cedar, Gil Peterson, Tom Smith and Russell Stephany earned the National Merit's top award, ranking them in the top .5 percent of the nation's seniors. Also, Laura Curran, Fred Davis, Tony Morales, Tom Reinsvold, James Smack, Rachel Strickland and John Tate earned letters of commendation from the National Merit program placing them in the top 2 percent of the nation.

Seniors were accepted at various prestigious universities and academies including Tom Smith and Chris Monson to Stanford, Cathy Sadlak to the Air Force Academy, Joe Hampton and Bob Wood to West Point, and John Tate, Jim Mousse and Gil Peterson to the University of California at Berkeley.

Presented at the senior awards ceremony, three new scholarships were awarded this year, the Mark Herron Scholar-Athlete Award to Mike Ludwig, the Joan Siggilito Memorial Outstanding Service Award to Nora Franco and the National Honor Society scholarship to Alyse Rome.

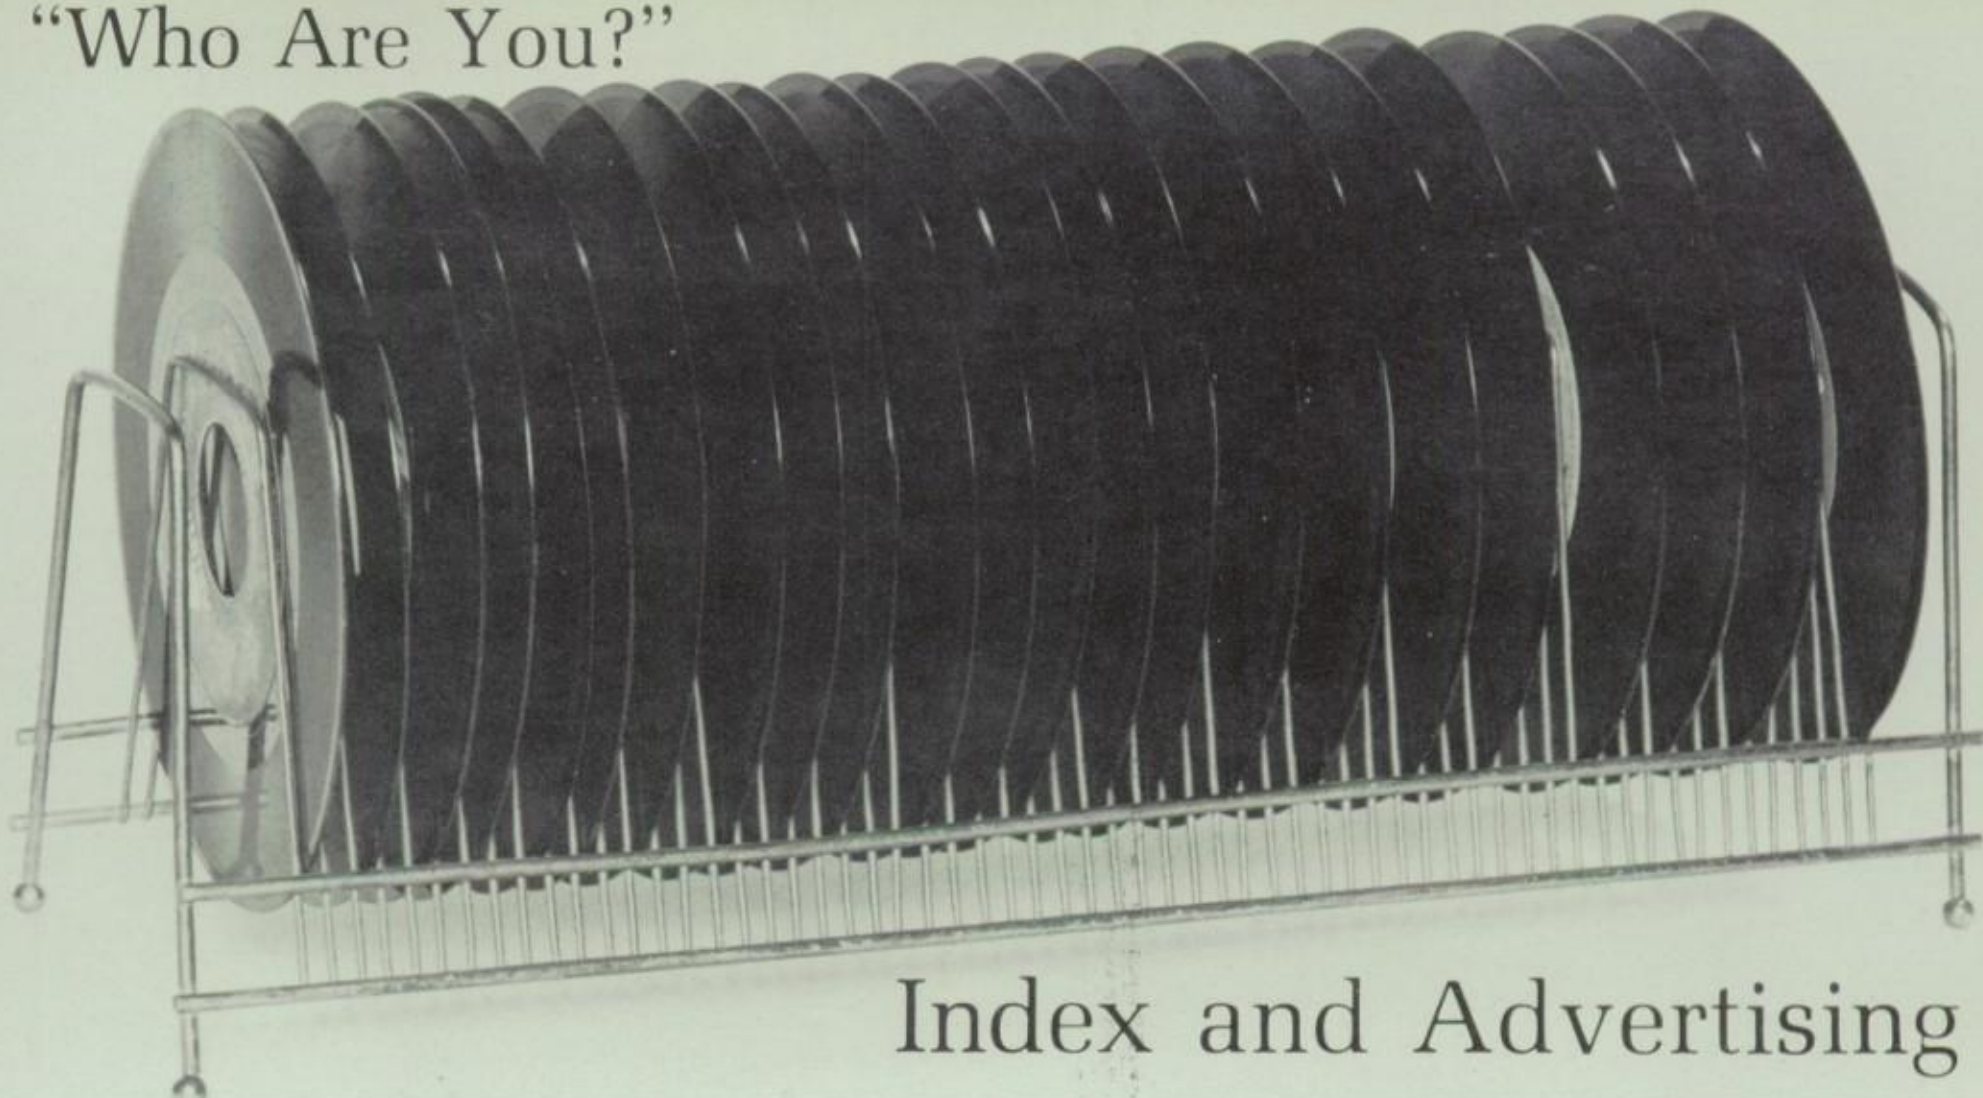

Also at the May 24 awards in the little theater, departments presented their traditional Aztec Awards plus many community and school groups honored seniors with scholarships, certificates and plaques.

Receiving the Aztec Award medallion were Terry Seidel for business, Sue Sharp for home economics, Melinda Kanipe for arts and crafts, Julie Rice for instrumental music, Alyse Rome for theater arts, Kerin Krueger for vocal music, Yvonne Marie de la Rosa for foreign language, Randy Thyr for industrial arts, Tom Smith for English, Larry Berger for publications, Russell Stephany for math, Michele Davis for girls PE, Susan Kychenthal for girls athletics, Steve Rovell for boys PE, Joe Hampton for boys athletics, Rachel Strickland for science, Mike Ludwig for social science and Carol Sawa for leadership.

Also honored for co-valedictorians were Tom Smith and Tom Reinsvold.

Carrying on a tradition established by principal Dave Andrews, a Top 25 awards dinner was held at the Santa Ana Elks Club honoring each class's top 25 students based purely on academics. Top seniors were Katrina Anast, William Ayres, Bill Bell, Joseph Blanda, Barbara Bohen, Kevin Carrigan, Danny Cedar, Terin Cygan, Sheri Edwards, Nora Franco, Kathleen Jensen, Kathy Lent, Mike Ludwig, Chris Monson, Gil Peterson, Tom Reinsvold, Alyse Rome, Laura Ruff, Cathy Sadlak, Carol Sawa, Tom Smith, Russell Stephany, Rachel Strickland, Terry Wilson and Bob Wood.

There's no business like show business.

One of the reasons we're a leader in real estate professionalism is that we know how to show a house. It's our business. We point out all the things that make a house a home to your potential buyers. And when they fall in love, we have the training and experience to efficiently close the sale. To find out more ask for our 21 Reasons

Why CENTURY 21 Should Sell Your House For You. For your complimentary copy just call: (714)993-7670

1. Mark Munoz and Becky Miller enjoy Junior-Senior Prom. 2. ASB president Carol Sawa becomes the first senior to receive diploma in 1979 graduation ceremonies.

Esperanza, having been established for a mere six years, is considered a young school. Yet, because of the excellence of the students, Esperanza has exhibited strength and superiority in every department, which most schools take many years to develop. It is the unity of each individual's hard work that has pushed the home of the Aztecs to its peak of achievement; the achievement that would have never come about without the dedicated people who have loved, cared for and nurtured our school along. And so, it is the memory of these students which will live within the walls of Esperanza High School forever.

-Carol Sawa, ASB president

Music is the universal language, and songs are the words of music. The words express the thought and the purpose. The words speak of many different experiences. Life is an adventure of many different experiences. Listen to song, and you listen to life.

The content of song is endless, as is the content of life. In song, there are many messages. Listen and memorize the messages of song, for they may be the messages of life.

As you go forward into life, sing songs of hope and love. If you sing these songs, life will be full of the same.

Class of 1979 - sing for all of us.
-Dave Andrews, principal

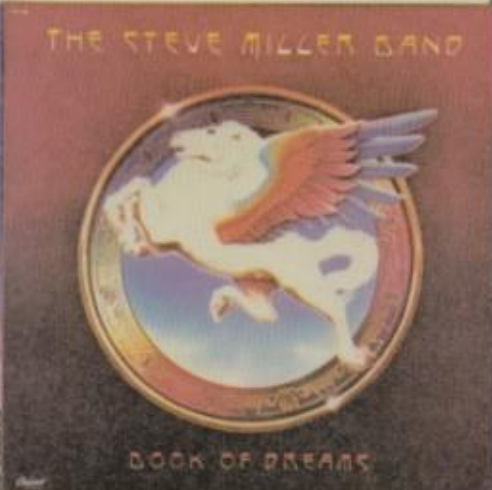

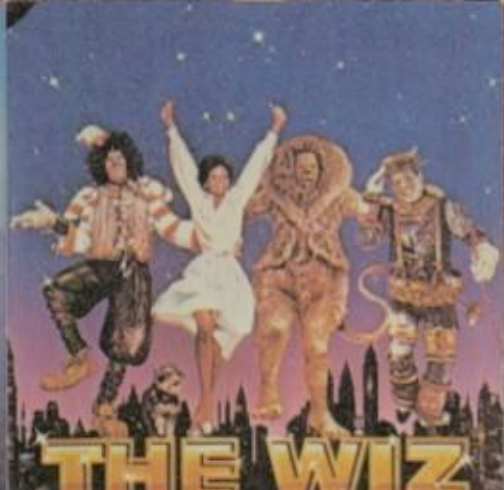

Throughout our four years of high school we are faced with a lot of different experiences that play important roles in our lives. Some of these we will cherish, while others we will let pass through our fingers. No matter how we handle these experiences, each individual person will grow and learn in his or her own special way. A way that will determine our future goals and accomplishments.

My four years at Esperanza have been filled with many warm, yet challenging times. However, I know these experiences have prepared me for my unpredictable future. It is my hope we accept these "songs" in our lives with open hearts and minds, so we can step into our future with high hopes and expectations.

A very special thanks to Chico.
(You deserve it, teach.)
